

RIOTING WORSE . . .

Northern Ireland Calls On British

Belfast, Northern Ireland (AP) — Northern Ireland's embattled government, faced with increasingly savage riots and acts of sabotage, called Sunday night on British troops to guard key public installations.

The action followed two explosions that crippled Belfast's power and water facilities and a second straight day of violence in Londonderry between rock-throwing mobs and police. At least 150 persons were hospitalized.

A total of 260 persons were estimated to have been injured during two days of rioting in Londonderry. The official casualty toll listed 86 policemen and 79 civilians injured seriously enough to require hospital treatment.

Late Sunday night, nine post offices in various sections of Belfast were set on fire by gasoline bombs. Firemen were hampered in their efforts to control the fires because of low water pressure caused by a reservoir explosion which cut two pipe lines into the city.

Most Serious

The violence was the most serious since the Roman Catholic civil rights movement took to the streets last October demanding more jobs and housing and changes in local voting procedures. Catholics make up about a third of the province's 1.5 million persons.

The fighting Sunday broke out in Londonderry when police charged into the mainly Roman Catholic Bogside district after they were stoned by a crowd of about 200 persons.

Saboteurs late Saturday night blew up a reservoir in the Mourne Mountains that provides Belfast with much of its water and an electricity pylon near Armagh. Authorities said water rationing would be imposed on the city most of the coming week.

Near Border

Both bomb explosions were near the border with the southern Irish Republic, leading to speculation that the outlawed Irish Republican Army, which has been mainly quiet during the civil rights campaign, has gone on the offensive.

The announcement of the call for troops followed a lengthy cabinet meeting in Belfast. The statement also said that a four-man security committee under Prime Minister Terence O'Neill had been formed to make speedy decisions during the crisis.

In London, a British Defense Ministry spokesman said "There is no question of the use of troops to control crowds or demonstrations." He said the British troops would be available for guard duty at important public facilities.

6,000 Troops

Britain has about 6,000 troops stationed at five centers in Northern Ireland. They have not been used before to support Northern Irish government against the present wave of disorders.

Since the partition of Ireland in 1920, Northern Ireland has remained part of the United Kingdom but has a considerable measure of domestic autonomy with its own parliament and provincial government.

The ruling Unionist party is committed to maintaining Northern Ireland's role as an integral part of the United Kingdom.

The latest outbreak began Saturday night with a clash in Londonderry between the two sides.

Violence Spread

Police intervened between the battling factions and the violence spread. One mob stormed the Londonderry police headquarters.

Gasoline bombs were thrown at police vehicles.

Bernadette Devlin, civil rights leader who was elected to the British Parliament last week, joined a sit-down demonstration which held up traffic at Dungiven, 15 miles from Londonderry on the road to Belfast.

She accused the police of using "sheer animal brutality" against the demonstrators during the night.

Civil rights demonstrators called for a general strike in Londonderry Monday.

SEIZURE AT CORNELL ENDS

Agreement Is Reached

. . . WITH NEGROES

Ithaca, N.Y. (AP) — Rifle- and shotgun-carrying Negro students ended their 36-hour seizure of the student union at Cornell University Sunday after signing an agreement with the school administration.

Afro-American Society chairman Edward Whitefield led about 100 society members from sprawling Willard Straight Hall shortly after 4 p.m. amid cheers from about 2,000 onlookers.

Well Armed

Later, Whitefield read the agreement reached between his group and the university from the steps of the headquarters of the Afro-American Society. Lined behind him were several Negro students with rifles and shotguns, many wearing bandoleers of shells slung over their shoulders. Others carried three-foot-long sticks with a blade attached to one end.

In talks with the militant Afro-American Society, Cornell Vice President Steven Muller said, the Negroes became aware of the danger posed by their having guns and worked with administrators to find a solution to the problems causing the occupation.

Muller called the final agreement "anything but a complete capitulation."

Tensions were rising, he said, and there was fear that local authorities might take action on their own to remove the armed students from the hall.

'Real Fear'

Muller said the AAS leaders armed themselves in self-defense. "There was real fear," he said, "on the part of a number of blacks that they were unsafe."

Muller cited anonymous telephoned threats against the Negroes recently, an attempt Saturday by white students to invade and retake the hall and a cross burning in the front of a black women's cooperative home.

In the agreement the university agreed not to file any civil or criminal charges against those who occupied the hall, and to provide legal aid for any Negro students who might be prosecuted in connection with the occupation.

The school also agreed to recommend that action against black students reprimanded for harassment in earlier demonstrations be dropped, to undertake an investigation into police activity in connection with a recent cross-burning at the school and to meet with the Afro-American Society to work on formation of a new school judiciary system.

The school agreed to assume responsibility for damages to Willard Straight Hall. For Cornell the agreement was signed by Vice Provost W. Keith Kennedy and Muller. It also was signed by Whitefield and Zach Carter of the Afro-American Society.

Whitefield then issued a separate statement for the Afro-American Society accusing the campus police of instigating an attempt Saturday by white students to retake the hall.

Understanding

"We only leave now with the understanding the university will carry out the agreement reached," he said, "failure to do so will result in further confrontation."

Ithaca police said no action was planned against the Negro students for carrying guns. A police spokesman said the guns apparently were unloaded and therefore there was no violation of city law.

The black students took over sprawling Willard Straight Hall in the cold, early-morning hours Saturday. They roused about 70 persons from the building and disrupted the start of Parents Weekend.

Nursing Home Lack Troubles County

. . . Commissioner Raps Handling Of Lincoln General Decision

By GERRY SWITZER
Star Staff Writer

Lancaster County officials see no immediate answer to the shortage of nursing home space for the indigent after last week's decision to raze the former Lincoln General Hospital building.

Lancaster County Commissioner William Grossman said that the county board had had "no opportunity" to make a decision based on the comprehensive appraisal of the structure by George Hancock.

He said he had seen the report but had been "sworn to secrecy" not to reveal its contents to other members of the board or anyone else until the hospital board made it public.

Honored Request

Grossman said he honored the request and said nothing to anyone. The hospital board "took the report, made it public and made the decision to raze the building all the same day without saying anything to anyone," he said.

"We (the county commissioners) weren't about to make a decision until we had had a chance to see the report," he said.

Grossman said that the county has no intention of building a floor or two on top of the County Convalescent Hospital since it is prohibited under conditions of the Hill-

Burton funds which were received to help finance construction of the hospital.

According to Lancaster County Welfare Director J. Earle Trabert, welfare nursing home cases have increased 56% in the last biennium with no anticipation of a change in the next two years.

75 Out Of County

He said there are now 75 individuals of the 390 total county nursing home patients who have been placed in nursing homes outside the county due to lack of adequate facilities in the county available within the statutory fee limitations.

Don Williamson, deputy county welfare director, estimated that this results in a revenue loss to Lancaster County of $150,000 annually in nursing home fees, drugs and medical bills.

Trabert said moderate-priced nursing home operations would be the answer if anyone would be willing to build such a structure. He said he still contends that if the county were to get into the nursing home business it would not be jeopardizing the business of existing nursing homes.

No New Operations

He said he knew of no new operations coming into the county with only plans by Madonna Home and Tabitha Home to expand. Completion of those plans is 18 months to two years away, Trabert estimated.

Williamson suggested that the only other feasible immediate possibility for placing some of the increasing number of welfare recipients is the private home arrangement.

He said a few are so placed now, but these individuals must be competent and physically able to take care of their basic needs, although they cannot live alone.

Because of lack of facilities, Trabert said, many county patients are being kept in hospitals longer than necessary because there just isn't any place to put them.

This is costing the taxpayers a substantial amount, he said, since the Convalescent Hospital where the per diem average rate is $21.40 is at capacity most of the time. The other hospital per diem rates are: St. Elizabeth, $44.90; Lincoln General, $57.80; and Bryan Memorial, $52.30. These costs do not include laboratory fees which are billed separately.

He said if LB286, which provides for the state assuming the cost for care of county institutional patients, is passed, some of the county's financial problem would be alleviated.

Could Be Released

For example, he said, Lancaster County is paying $14 per day for county patients at the Lincoln State Hospital. Many of these patients are those who could be released if there were a place for them to go where they would be given needed medication.

At the present time Lancaster County has 16 care homes and seven nursing homes. The nursing homes are the only ones which qualify for taking Medicare patients, while the care homes are existing under a grandfather clause which gives the present owners the right to operate the home, but the home must close if the ownership is changed.

For this reason, Trabert said, it is not known how long the care homes will be in operation.

City's Recruiting Techniques Vary; Depend Upon Type Of Position Open

By TOM EKVAL
Star Staff Writer

Recruiting practices by the City of Lincoln vary, depending upon the type of position available, according to City Personnel Director Walter Mitchell.

Mitchell said the types of positions open require differing techniques, which vary according to the area from which likely job prospects will come.

The personnel director said ads are placed in professional trade journals with nationwide circulation when the city is seeking the professional man or skilled technician.

"The trade journal is our main way for seeking such employees," Mitchell said.

Just Not Found

He said a traffic engineer or librarian "just is not found in the Lincoln labor market." Thus local recruiting is not done in certain fields, he said.

"The professional people who meet our qualifications are usually ones who read the nationwide magazines," he said.

Mitchell added that many of these professional jobs are service-oriented ones in which the city does certain things that the citizens cannot do themselves or do not want to do.

"Consequently there is not the labor force in the city of people available for certain jobs," he said.

Latest Addition

The city's latest addition to the professional ranks — Larry Brage, a traffic engineer — was secured through an ad in a professional magazine.

"I saw the ad in the official publication of the Institute of Traffic Engineers and decided to apply for the position," Brage said.

Brage formerly worked in the State Highway Commission of Kansas.

Mitchell said professional men are also secured through the universities.

"Many of our lawyers and civil engineers come from the University of Nebraska, but for other professional fields we have to go to universities outside the state," the personnel director said.

Write Letters

He said most of the university recruiting is done by writing letters when a position is open, rather than actively recruiting on the campus.

The city's professional job openings "do not come or cannot be promised at graduation time," he said.

Mitchell said for the non-professional jobs there is no need to recruit nationally.

"The local mass media reaching the labor market within our geographical area is our best means for recruiting such employees as firemen, policemen, clerical workers and public works employees," he said.

'Stop In'

Mitchell said anyone interested in clerical or labor jobs with the city is always invited to stop in at the City Personnel Department office to fill out an application form.

The personnel director said other means for recruiting on the local level include sending a weekly list of job openings to all employment agencies, keeping in touch with people seeking employment and letting the Malone Center know about job opportunities.

"We had exchanged information on jobs with Omaha before, but ended that practice when we found out people in the Omaha labor market were not interested in coming to Lincoln for work," he said.

Biafra-Nigeria Talks Fail To End Fighting

Monrovia, Liberia (AP) — Efforts to start peace talks between Biafra and Nigeria collapsed Sunday after a two-day meeting sponsored by the Organization of African Unity.

"Both sides stuck to their guns," said one delegate, adding that he saw no change for further talks. The Biafrans refused to comment after formal announcement that the conferences had failed to get the fighting stopped.

Seven African countries were represented at the OAU meeting, called to try to end the bloody 22-month-old civil war in Nigeria. OAU and Britain have tried at least five times to bring the belligerents together to negotiate for peace.

Prospects of negotiations had appeared good when the Biafrans said they would not insist on a cease-fire as a precondition for talks and said they would accept an arms embargo with international policing.

But they refused the Nigerian conditions of a cease-fire with an arms embargo "within the context of one Nigeria" — namely, the continued insistence of the Lagos government that the Biafrans renounce their secession and return to the federation they left on May 30, 1967.

The Biafran delegation told the assembled heads of state: "We are not prepared again, in the light of our experiences, to entrust the security of ourselves and our property to any organization outside ourselves."

This referred to the deaths of thousands of Ibo tribesmen, eastern Nigerians, in a series of 1966 riots in northern Nigeria. The killings sparked charges of genocide and eventually led to the war.

Colleges 'Deprived Of Income'

New York — A Ford Foundation report said that colleges and universities have deprived themselves of vast amounts of in-

New York — New York's State Narcotic Addiction Control Commission, set up to rehabilitate drug addicts, is under attack from a growing number of addicts, lawyers and physicians, a New York Times study showed. Judging Clinic To Look For Uniform Standards

By GLENN KREUSCHER
Farm Editor

What will the champion livestock at Nebraska fairs look like this summer and fall?

The answer to this question will be sought Monday and Tuesday in the County Fair Livestock Judging Clinic to be held on the East Campus of the University of Nebraska.

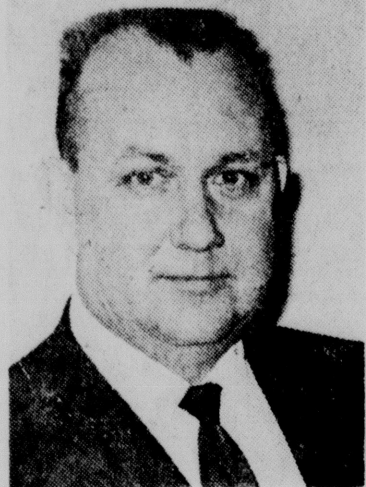

"The importance of uniform judging of livestock at Nebraska county fairs, responsive to up-to-date, accepted standards in the industry, may be vastly under-rated as to its impact on the overall improvement of meat animal species," says Dave Williams, extension 4-H Livestock Specialist at the University of Nebraska.

Williams believes that because more people see more livestock at the community and county level it is all the more important that correct judging procedures be carried out at local fairs.

"One mistake in judging at a county fair can mean the end of the line for an animal which may warrant standing in competition at the State Fair or Ak-Sar-Ben or a regional livestock event," said Williams.

The program Williams and his committee have planned for the judging clinic has attracted a great deal of attention among livestock owners and youthful exhibitors.

The judges at both the 1969 State Fair and Ak-Sar-Ben market beef livestock shows will be participants in the judging clinic. Those attending the clinic will have opportunity to see Dr. Don Pinyan, steer judge at the American Royal and 1969 Nebraska State Fair, and Dr. Robert Totusek, steer judge at the International Livestock Exposition the past three years and 1969 Ak-Sar-Ben judge, place classes and discuss the type of market steer they will be selecting. Both judges are on the animal science staff at Oklahoma State University.

Many times livestock owners would like to have the ideas of the purebred breeder expressed in regard to the type of animals selected at our livestock events for youth competition.

To cooperate with this part of the program the University of Nebraska has invited two of the nation's best known beef cattle representatives who have outstanding records in breeding and showing winning cattle.

Gene Wiese of Manning, Iowa, Hereford breeder and judge and vice president of the American Hereford Association, will join Harold Arendt of Highmore, S.D., manager of Ankony Angus Farm and the father of the three youthful exhibitors of the grand champion steer at the 1968 international show, to discuss the production of beef cattle that please the show judge, packer and consumer.

Other interested parties at a livestock show often say, "We would like to see what a cattle buyer or supermarket meat buyer would say about the winners."

The University of Nebraska will answer that question by inviting Hugh (Scotty) Mactier, Omaha steer salesman for Mactier Bros. Livestock Service Co., and Gary Jullinger of Stromsburg, cattle buyer for Schuyler Packing Co., to join with Elmer Harder of Omaha, regional director of public relations for Safeway Stores, to provide their ideas about the kind of livestock that should be selected as winners at the fairs.

Those attending the clinic will judge market steers, lambs and hogs on foot and then judge carcasses of the same animals the second day. They will also judge breeding animals.

By Glenn Kreuscher, Farm Editor

Since the first Listening Conference held here by Secretary of Agriculture Clifford M. Hardin, some changes have been made in the format for future conferences.

Farmers who want to talk about their economic survival will not have such subjects as malnutrition and racial minority problems thrown at them.

In defense of the University of Nebraska, it is now known that a very detailed letter from Hardin's office requested many of the program items that visiting farmers called "malarkey."

Concern has been voiced by a number of persons who have written me this past week about placing extension and university officials in the political stream by having to carry out orders from a Cabinet member to "realize administration goals."

The latest word from California is that the meeting planned for Davis, Calif., has already been moved to a site off-campus.

My mail this week was heavy and it reflected many different view points. In answering it generally, I definitely am not anti-university but I don't believe in being bashful in telling the story the way it looks to me.

The fact is that I am usually one of the Ag College and University of Nebraska's strongest supporters and I intend to be complimentary on their activities many, many times. If I don't agree I will probably be as ready to mention it as I am in patting my friends on the back.

From Mrs. Howard Palmer, Glenwood, Iowa, comes this: "We want to take this means to tell you we liked very much the way you wrote up the Listening Conference. We attended the meeting."

"Three cheers and a Roman candle for your story in the Monday morning Star (April 14); we wonder how many other farm editors report these meetings with your perception and insight," from an agricultural public relations official.

"I was interested and surprised by your Monday morning column. Surprised that you would fan the flames of discontent unduly by your comments on the University of Iowa dean and the "high up" University of Nebraska officials.

"I thought you deserved a pat on the 'back sides' for some of your comments," said Dick Earl of Roscoe Hill Hatchery, Lincoln.

Earl added, "A fellow press man who sat through the six or seven hours with you was not impressed by some of the handling of the program either. Guess it was just as well I was busy running a business that day."

From Dale Sampson Jr. of Utica: "I want to congratulate you and say I think your Monday article was about as true as the picture could be explained to the extension people."

Srom Mr. and Mrs. D. Hafer, Seward: "Appreciated Farm Roundup last Monday. It was surely a good article and every farmer should write you a note of appreciation."

"We think like Rep. William J. Scherle of Iowa, Hardin's business is to get better income for farmers, not a lot of other subjects. He should be reminded of this at every opportunity."

"Mr. Hardin is so university-orientated it is hard to believe he will listen to opinions from small farmers, whom he is supposed to help."

From Mrs. Margaret Peterson of Gretna: "Your article on Listening Conference was excellent. I am sending it to my Nebraska-raised son in Massachusetts. Your observations of all groups present was outstanding."

W. O. Stephens of Milford, writes, "Wish to congratulate you on your Listening Conference articles. I believe your interpretation of the farmers mood there at the meeting is the mood of farmers in general."

And from Joseph C. Nosky of Crete came a spontaneous award for an unusually good performance.

When I look at all the extensive public relations facilities available to almost everyone but the individual farmer, I just can't help giving him a platform for his views once in a while.

Another personal judgment, and it may be wrong; it was too bad those who made the charmed list and spoke from the Listening Conference podium didn't include all of the most articulate spokesmen for agriculture attending.

By the very nature of the selection making sure everybody from the various land-grant colleges had "his part" — some competent men were excluded, because they didn't have the political connections or the right friends.

Fighting, Knifing Erupts At 'Rally For Decency'

Baltimore (UPI) — Widespread fighting and knifing broke out among 40,000 youths attending a "rally for decency" Sunday. More than 100 were injured.

Police, using horses, shotguns and night sticks, were called in to quell the fighting which erupted as the youths were leaving Baltimore's Memorial Stadium in the Greenmount Avenue section, scene of the city's worst rioting last year.

The first aid station at the stadium reported treating about 100 persons for cuts and 38 persons, including a policeman, were hospitalized. Seven of those hospitalized were stabbed.

50 Arrests

Police reported making at least 50 arrests as they swept through the parking lots and streets near the stadium in an effort to clear the milling, militant crowd. The situation was reported under control by 6 p.m.

The "youth rally for decency" was organized by City Controller Hyman Pressman after a similar rally was held in Miami, Fla., which drew 30,000 teen-agers. Plans for the rally were plagued with problems from the start. One area student leader charged the council set up to handle the arrangements was racially imbalanced and during a parade last Thursday to drum up interest in the rally, four police cars were used to prevent a peace float from entering.

Float Surrounded

The float with a large peace symbol was designed by a "black and white" power group. The police cars surrounded it to keep it from moving into the parade lineup.

At the rally, a four-hour show featuring blaring rock 'n' roll bands and speeches on such topics as decency and patriotism, various peace and black militant groups were refused permission to address the crowd.

The Maryland attorney general, Charles Moylan, said as the crowd left the stadium bands of black youths began attacking white youths and stealing purses from girls.

"The idea of bringing 40,000 teen-agers to Memorial Stadium, largely without parent supervision, on a hot Sunday afternoon was ill advised," Moylan said.

Millions Sterilized

Less Than Half Of New Teachers Took Jobs In Nebraska This Year

By The Associated Press

Less than half of the teachers who graduated from Nebraska colleges during the 1968-69 school year accepted teaching positions in Nebraska schools, according to the State Department of Education.

But the department's annual report on teacher supply and demand noted that the ratio of secondary school vacancies filled by Nebraska graduates climbed from 43 to 51.9% during the year.

The department speculated that " hefty salary increases given last year enticed more Nebraska graduates to accept Nebraska positions."

But only 45.7% of the total available elementary teaching graduates and 49.6% of the secondary education graduates chose Nebraska positions, the report said.

Nebraska Jobs

Of the 3,382 available graduates, 867 took out-of-state jobs and 804 decided not to teach. The remainder — 1,626 — accepted positions in Nebraska.

The figures compare with 1967-68 when — out of 3,076 available graduates — 795 chose not to teach and 851 left the state.

Nebraska schools employed 1,349 "new" teachers during 1968-69 out of a total of 7,936 secondary school classroom teachers hired across the entire state.

The 1,046 college graduates were joined by 303 teachers re-entering the profession.

AUTOMATIC TRANSMISSION MAINTENANCE

It is a recognized fact that in many instances, clutch failure in automatic transmissions is due to products of fluid oxidation being deposited on the clutch plates causing slippage.

Chevrolet Motor Division recommends that every 12,000 miles or one year's service, under normal conditions the powerglide transmission should have the following services:

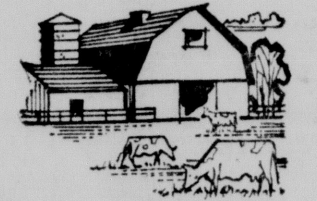

Remove, clean & replace powerglide pan.
Remove, clean & replace suction screen.
Check vacuum modulator valve, replace if needed.
Adjust low band, add new fluid as needed.

ROTC Cadets Hold Exercises

By CRAIG CALLAWAY
Outstate Nebraska Bureau
Camp Ashland — About 350 Army military science cadets from the University of Nebraska and Creighton University took over hills and valleys near here for combat exercises during the weekend, as part of pre-summer camp training.

The junior and senior level students used the hilly F. J. Dillon farm for much of their maneuvers and were billeted at the camp at night. About 200 from NU and 150 from Creighton attended. Training lasted Friday through Sunday.

Purpose of the camp was to get the cadets "warmed up" for training they're to receive at ROTC summer camps. One company commander followed a field exercise by barking that, "If nothing else, you've all learned you're in pretty poor shape."

According to the manual, camp is supposed to "impress upon the cadet the physical demands placed upon the soldier and the need for excellent physical conditioning."

Another commander told his company, "You can see your mistakes . . . and that's about all we can do here — make sure you see you're going to have a hard time out there (at summer camp)."

Per ROTC orders, all criticism of the cadets' deeds and misdeeds was to be "constructive" — that is, the students weren't to be subjected to the deliberate harassment cadre soldiers who take their final officers candidate training at Camp Ashland during the summer have to endure.

The cadets' schedules included squad tactics, compass training at day and night, physical conditioning, night reconnaissance and even "administrative bivouac."

Naturally, there were also the old Army stand-bys, including barracks inspections.

Final Weighing Of Test Bulls Set

Ogallala (P) — Registered bulls on test at the Western Nebraska Bull Testing Station at Ogallala will receive final weights Wednesday and Thursday.

$9 Million Damage Said Preventable

Flood protection work by the Army Corps of Engineers in the Sioux Falls, S.D., area prevented more than $12 million damage during the recent floods, according to Col. W. H. McKenzie III, Omaha district engineer.

Despite the corps' efforts, however, the rampaging Big Sioux and its tributaries did more than $10.4 million in flood damages, preliminary estimates indicate.

A five-dam project currently being studied by the Corps of Engineers could have prevented $9 million of that damage, engineers believe.

Pile Treatment Works Wonders For California Couple

Treatment Shrinks Piles, Relieves Pain In Most Cases
Sacramento, Cal. Mrs. C. Arnold of this city reports: "I can't contain myself any longer to write you about wonderful Preparation H for hemorrhoids. My husband has also been using same and it's doing wonders for him."

(Note: Doctors have proved in most cases — Preparation H® actually shrinks inflamed hemorrhoids. In case after case, the sufferer first notices prompt relief from pain, burning and itching. Then swelling is gently reduced.

There's no other formula for the treatment of hemorrhoids like doctor-tested Preparation H. It also lubricates to make bowel movements more comfortable, soothes irritated tissues and helps prevent further infection. In ointment or suppository form.)

He was identified as Rex King, 41.

The car he was driving had a blowout, according to Washington County Deputy Sheriff Ben Reech, and the vehicle went out of control and into a 20 foot ditch. He was dead on arrival at a Blair hospital.

An elderly South Sioux City woman, Edith Fourts, 87, was killed when she was struck by a truck in South Sioux City.

The driver of the vehicle was Sammy Conner, 41. South Sioux City police said the woman apparently stepped in front of the truck.

The 1969 Nebraska highway fatality toll stands at 97 compared with 118 on April 21 last year.

Fremont Coed Miss NU '69

Amid roses, tears and trophies a brown-haired coed from Fremont was crowned Miss University of Nebraska at the annual pageant Sunday night.

Miss Susan Vanneman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Vanneman, was selected from ten finalists to take part in the Miss Nebraska pageant June 12-14 in York.

Miss Vanneman received a $200 scholarship from the Downtown Lincoln Promotion Council and other prizes.

Winner of the talent award, Miss Vanneman sang selections from "The King and I."

The ten girls also participated in bathing suit and evening gown competition Sunday evening.

The judges used the results of an afternoon interview and the answers the girls gave to questions at the pageant as additional bases for their selection.

Miss Melodee McPherson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. G. McPherson of 1900 So. 50th was first runner-up. Miss McPherson received a $100 scholarship from the Nebraska Union Board.

She was also elected Miss Congeniality by the other contestants. Miss McPherson sang "blues songs" in the talent competition.

Second runner-up was Miss Carrie Moore of Omaha. Miss Moore, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Moore, received a $50 scholarship from the Nebraska Union Board.

The ten finalists participating Sunday night had been selected from 29 contestants. Talent exhibitions included singing, a "college in multi-media," oral readings and an interpretive dance to an original poem.

The finalists were asked questions about a universal draft, college demonstrations, segregation and student government.

NEBRASKAN'S NOVELS SAID 'ORIENTAL' . . .

Cather Seen Through Eastern Eye

By DEAN TERRILL
Southeast Nebraska Bureau
Red Cloud — Honey prairie novels which brought worldwide fame to this town's Willa Cather were leafed through from a unique and fascinating viewpoint here Saturday night.

More than 100 lovers of literature from several states heard the Nebraskan's work compared with, of all things, the "Oriental philosophy of life." The parallel was drawn by Clara B. Cooper, a scholar from India now teaching English at Florida State University.

Her remarks, taken from a doctoral study, highlighted the fourteenth spring conference of the Willa Cather Pioneer Memorial and Educational Foundation.

'Against Materialism'

"Miss Cather was dedicated to the moral and spiritual over material values," said the Osmania University graduate. "She revolted against machine-made materialism."

The late author's "simple but deep feeling for the land," continued Miss Cooper, is characteristic of several Eastern religions. Likewise the Nebraskan's high regard for "meditation and contemplation."

The writings particularly echo such Buddhist tenets, noted the speaker, as "the Middle Way, the Golden Mean . . . and normalcy." Miss Cather's "denunciation of artificial society," also reflects Oriental attitudes, Miss Cooper suggested.

Research Reviewed

Also joining in what has become an annual pilgrimage to Cather-land were the co-authors of "The Many Faces of Willa Cather," soon to be published. Marion Marsh Brown of the University of Nebraska in Omaha and Dr. Ruth Crone of Mankato (Minn.) State College jointly reviewed their research which preceded the book.

Mrs. Mildred Bennett of Red Cloud, foundation president, said several types of expansion are being considered by the group. An $80,000 building is one possibility; also an annual youth day to promote Cather interest.

Issuance of a commemorative stamp in 1973, the 100th anniversary of the author's birth, also will be sought.

Special guests at the evening banquet included the two sisters to whom "My Antonia" was dedicated. They are Mrs. Carrie Miner Sherwood, 99-year-old Red Cloud resident, and Mrs. Irene Miner Weisz of Chicago.

Montgomery Lectures Focusing On Education

By The Associated Press

As one of its centennial events, the University of Nebraska will bring to the Lincoln campus for its endowed Montgomery lectures May 24 three of the nation's leading educational spokesmen to lead discussions on the direction and expectations of higher education.

They are:

Logan Wilson, president of the American Council on Education, one of the largest and most powerful educational organizations.

Charles Kidd, a former presidential science adviser and associate director of the National Institutes of Health, who is now head of the new council on Federal Relations formed by the Association of American Universities.

And John P. Roche who is on leave from his professorship in politics at Brandeis University. He helped devise educational programs enacted by Congress during the Johnson administration.

All three will take part in a series of talks and discussions.

Dr. Paul A. Olson, foundation professor of English and chairman of the University's Centennial Montgomery lectureship, said panels composed of administrators, teachers, and students — including representatives from the University of Nebraska at Omaha and Creighton University — will respond to the guest speakers.

"We want cross-section participation in these meetings," Dr. Olson said. "The doors are open to the public and we expect more than a speaker and passive audience who listens to him and then goes away."

Texan Addresses Opening Session Of Meeting Here

E. B. "Tex" Mayer of La Grange, Tex., president of the National Institute of Locker and Freezer Provisioners, was the keynote speaker Sunday at the opening session of the 30th annual convention of the Nebraska Locker and Processors' Association in Lincoln.

Over 300 delegates registered.

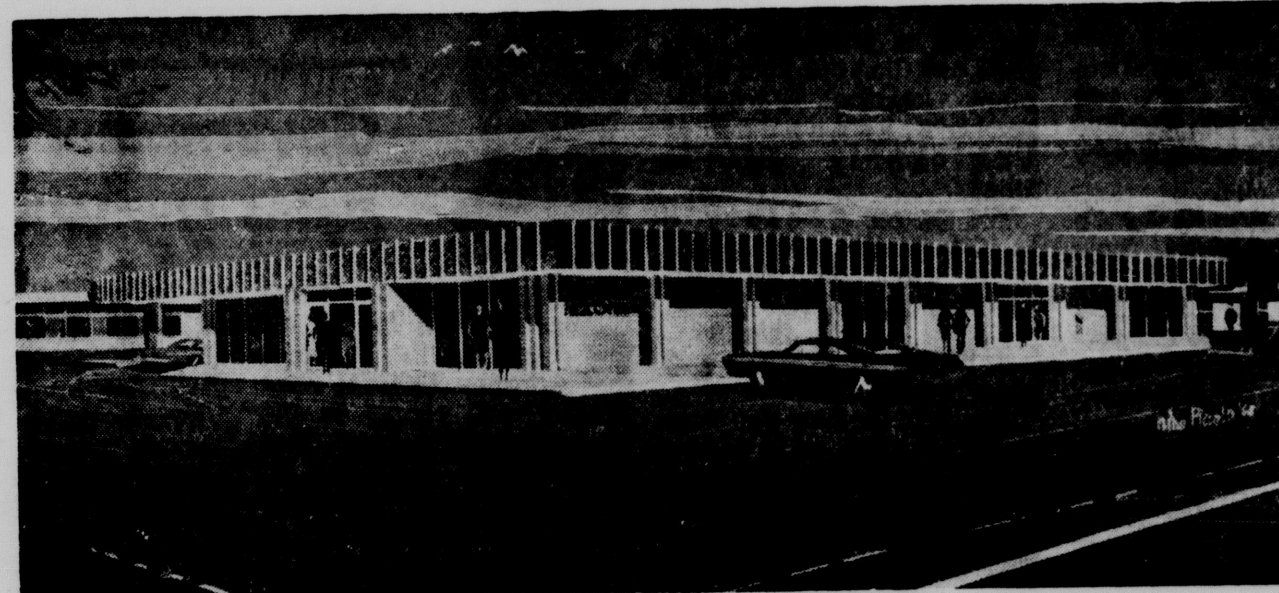

A cured meat contest also took place on Sunday. The entries were judged by Professor Charles Adams and Dr. Roger Mandigo from the University of Nebraska Meat Lab.

Election of officers will be held at a luncheon on Monday. Panels and speakers will discuss labor operations, sanitation and other pertinent issues.

IN PERSPECTIVE

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

It's a very gray rather than black and white world in which we live. At the height of student disorders on his campus, the president of Harvard University called in police and, in the process, incurred the displeasure of many otherwise moderate students.

We cannot argue with the Harvard president but we wish we could. We wish those students who take issue with the police action were entirely right. At least, if one possible explanation for their position is true, it would be a mark of progress if they were right.

It was explained by some that the student protest to police actions stemmed from their disenchantment with the abandonment of reasoning. They wanted the student disorders quieted in some other way.

This seems to be very much in harmony with the thinking that prevails these days among many students. Such thinking runs all the way to near-anarchy in which there is no authority except that which the individual assumes for himself.

As an ideal of society, the students are right in many respects. After all, what person would not prefer the peaceful settlement of every dispute? Whether stronger or not, the word is certainly preferred to the sword.

In much the same way, many of today's students oppose all aspects of the military and, of course, the war in Vietnam. But again, this does not set them apart from the vast majority of the American people.

But some of these student groups depart the company of many Americans when they pursue the peaceful settlement of disputes at the sacrifice of anything and everything. It is here that one is caught upon the other horn of the dilemma. It is at this point that the practical and the theoretical come to a head-on collision.

While it is lamentable, the world is not yet ready for a full application of the abstract concept of a perfect society. This is because men and women are not perfect and could not, if they had to, agree even on what constitutes perfection.

There is disillusionment among some students and it is amply justified but just what does one do about this? The young people of today should not feel that they are the only ones who are disillusioned, because every generation has more than its share of that characteristic.

There have always been those who could see the finer things in life but could find no way of bringing them to fruition. Far more people have disliked war than have ever liked it but no one has found a way of avoiding it.

The average person would far prefer the peaceful settlement of differences but sometimes it is simply impossible. Certainly, a prison is not a popular place but no one has devised an effective substitute for it.

That is the essence of what has bothered humanity for most of its existence — the espousal of highly ethical ends but an inability to attain them. It is no different today than it has ever been.

The problem is that all of humanity is not of the same temperament nor a product of the same environment. The evil or violent forces at play in the world are to be lamented but they must also be reckoned with.

In the face of a general refusal to reckon with them, one fears that they would ultimately prevail and the erosion of civilization would follow at a devastating and deplorable rate. If students could, with immunity save the force of words, occupy and render useless the campus physical plant, we doubt that our educational system would long remain.

It is hoped that most of the young people of today still are not disillusioned. It is hoped, too, that those who are might come to realize that a disciplined society still must rest on the force of law rather than the persuasion of moral right.

Every American Woman Swearing Off Cigarettes

NEW YORK — Well, it looks like maybe they've finally come up with the right pitch to make us give up cigarettes. Death wouldn't do it — but vanity might.

A doctor named H. W. Daniell has announced that smoking causes wrinkles. And crow's-feet! Can't you just hear cigarette cartons landing in trash cans all over the country?

Dr. Daniell says it's a matter of tension, which is probably why we took up the filthy habit in the first place. All it takes is one cigarette, one match, one mirror and one face. Step bravely forward, watch your reflection closely, and light up. What comes next is enough to send you scurrying for a mud pack, or whatever YOUR mother told you helped to smooth out wrinkles.

Because, sure enough, there they are. The first ones show up when you light the match and squint your eyes to keep the fumes out. Crow's-feet and ripples.

Then comes the business with the mouth, clamping the lips to hold the cigarette while you inhale. Deep wrinkles in both cheeks. Plus a funny little squiggle in your chin that nobody would EVER call a dimple. Exhale and it's even worse.

So there you are. Grooving age lines in your face with every puff. And don't try giggling and puffing at the same time to kid yourself they really ARE laugh wrinkles, after all.

This disastrous finding may do more good than those graveyard anti-smoking TV commercials. After all, lung cancer doesn't make you look old. Dead, maybe, but not old. Up till now, the anti-commercials have been getting credit for the slump in the sale of coffin nails.

It's only a 1 per cent drop, but a drop. Sales have been going down slowly since September, 1967, much to the joy of the Public Health Service and the American Cancer Society.

They didn't think up the wrinkle bit, but the ACS did get out a handsome pamphlet extolling the joys of no more hacking cough, smoker's headache or unkillable cigarette breath.

The Cancer Society's booklet wants us to know there are 19,000,000 Americans who've kicked the habit — and, therefore, look better, taste better and smell better.

And just to show you how smart they are, most of the big tobacco companies are going in for as much diversification as the law allows, buying up companies that produce everything from whiskey to chocolate pudding to movies.

This might be the most brilliant stroke of all. Every one of those things qualifies as "pleasurable distractions" recommended to keep us going while we struggle to kick the habit.

Job Corps Helped

A study of the Job Corps showing its strengths and weaknesses was turned over to Congress last week and it bolsters the strong arguments against the Nixon administration's decision to close over half of the existing training centers.

Conducted for the Office of Economic Opportunity by Louis A. Harris, whose organization interviewed 9,463 former Job Corpsmen and 1,850 persons associated with them, the study led to two conclusions Harris termed inescapable:

—The Job Corps has had a positive impact on its enrollees in terms of decreasing unemployment and increasing earnings.

—The achievements of Negro enrollees show that black youths "can make it" in society if given an equal opportunity with whites.

Findings showed the average hourly and annual wage for the enrollees increased markedly after their Job Corps experience, with those who completed their training showing the best results. The annual earnings of the enrollees who graduated were $1,147 higher six months after they left the Job Corps than they had been before training, according to Harris.

Although Harris said he was not taking sides in the dispute over the administration's decision to cut the Job Corps program in half, the results of his study pretty well justify the position of Job Corps defenders who regard the program as one of the necessary tools with which to elevate the economic and social dignity of untrained youths caught in the depths of the poverty trap.

Instead of undermining the Job Corps, the administration might have tried to correct its one great weakness, described by Harris as the temporary nature of the improved earning power of the enrollee. It might have looked into his recommendation that a permanent guidance and counseling service for ex-corpsmen be set up to help them keep on the path of advancement.

Another Step In Czechoslovakia

The Soviet Union has apparently failed in its initial effort to enforce a stern communist rule on Czechoslovakia and has now proceeded to an alternate plan of action. The Russians tried to remake the Czech freedom government into one of its own image but unrest continued.

Now, the Soviets have replaced that government leadership with men considered to be more pliable and more amenable to the dictates of communism. Thus, what the Czechoslovakian people feared has now come to pass. They obviously will take as empty word the promises of the new government that the dark days of pre-1968 will not return.

To the contrary, they can now expect a reimposition of the censorship and other restrictions on which communism thrives. Already, the new government has rounded up thousands of political figures for questioning and jailed several hundred prisoners. The freedoms of movement and of speech that deposed party chief Alexander Dubcek had inaugurated are now a thing of the past.

Beyond the current status of affairs, the Czech people have little to look forward to. It is obvious that if the political acts imposed upon the country by Russia do not succeed, stronger measures will be taken. The next step would be a return to full military occupation of the country by Russian troops.

With the latest turn of events, Czechoslovakia becomes even more of a showcase of Russian tyranny and freedom remains but a vague hope or dream in the minds of the people. But the Czech people have demonstrated that they will not let their dream of freedom die, a fact the Soviets will find to be a constant source of trouble for them.

Government Lawyers Returning To Old Firms Point Up Wisdom Of Regulatory Legislation

WASHINGTON — Clark Clifford's return to his old law firm and the prospect that Attorney General John Mitchell will return to the Nixon law firm suggests that a new rule — or law — is necessary to regulate government lawyers.

It is now the law that lawyers who have held jobs in Internal Revenue, the Justice Department and certain other agencies are prohibited from handling cases on which they worked while in government until two years after leaving government.

The law should be extended to prohibit government officials from returning to their law firms after leaving government.

For instance, what is to prevent various Wall Street firms from switching their practice to the Nixon-Mitchell firm now, knowing that this would indirectly benefit two very important partners, the President and the attorney general, after they leave government to return to their law firms?

Or a defense contractor could have retained the Clifford firm when he was secretary of defense, with the idea that Clifford would benefit after he left government and rejoined his firm.

Actually, the three men mentioned above would lean over backwards if anything like this developed while they were in government. But lesser officials might not.

Clark Clifford, who did a superb job as secretary of defense and made it clear that he, not the generals, was running the Pentagon, has now returned to his old law firm. It handled such important clients as Du Pont, the Pennsylvania Railroad, Phillips Petroleum, plus other defense contractors.

When Clifford first moved into the Pentagon, he went through the customary ritual of cutting all ties with his firm. His former associates — John Sharon, Carson Glass, Samuel McIlwain and Tom Finney, Jr. — formed a new firm without their star. They lost a few clients, of course, who had been attracted by Clifford's personal magnetism and skill at influencing people in high places.

After relinquishing the Pentagon to Secretary Melvin Laird, Clifford returned to his former firm and announced that he was back. This caused some private grumbling and hasty realignments. John Sharon barged off to practice law on his own. But the other partners elected to accept the old arrangements, giving Clifford once again the lion's share of the spoils.

To replace Sharon, Clifford invited Assistant Secretary of Defense Warnke to join the firm, which for the past few weeks has been known as Clifford, Warnke, Glass, McIlwain and Finney. Already, the lost clients have started to return.

Clifford is scrupulously ethical, but would be in a stronger position if the law had barred return to his old firm.

Inside reason why 79-year-old Rep. Bill Colmer of Pascagoula, Miss., has been blocking the aid-to-education bill can now be revealed.

Colmer, as chairman of the House Rules Committee, has the power of "seniority" — which some people call "senility" — to sit on bills he

By DON WALTON

Ah, spring. The air is filled with the sound and fury of thunder and lightning, impeachment, censure, student demonstrations — and mourning doves.

Basketball is finally dribbling toward a halt, baseball has renewed its claim as the national pastime, and football is elbowing its way in for a pre-season bow.

If Bob Devaney is looking for a good punter, he might call the White House.

Baseball this year is a major cause of air traffic congestion, with 24 major league (with that many, perhaps it should be moderate league) teams flying all over the country.

North Korea has struck again, and some very post-draft age congressmen are calling for immediate retaliation.

That's a good idea . . . let's shoot down the next North Korean spy plane that flies over San Francisco Bay.

We've got to stand up for our rights and make these countries stop screwing up our espionage.

When they took the Pueblo, we should have taken the first North Korean spy ship we could find off New York harbor.

The President must be hoping that we won't be harassed by any third-rate powers. The fourth-rate size is trouble enough.

Yes, spring has sprung. The Smothers Brothers have been smothered. And Johnny Cash is beginning to live up to his name in a really big way.

And about these students?

Demonstrating on campuses over such things as war and militarism and racism and poverty. What happened to the good old days when students were responsible and devoted their energies to the big things, like parking and panties?

Not even staid old Harvard is immune. No doubt about it. Berkeley will now have to escalate, and hold Oakland hostage. (Which is not such a bad idea.)

It even happened in Lincoln. Wow!

And now we learn that the state's population is dropping—largely due to the pill. That's spring?

It's a weird one, all right.

A response to last week's column from W. O. Stephens of Milford:

"I beg to disagree with you on your advocating the short ballot. It sounds more like sour grapes to me."

"You speak of the ignorance of the people, or disinterest, to fully explore the qualifications of the candidates as if this can be corrected by simply turning it over to a power-grabbing legislature."

"I would like to know why at fault never received a ticket because, as the police put it, the police wouldn't stand a chance with him in court because he knew all the angles."

It's no wonder police are losing the support of some of us good citizens.

Clay Center, Neb.

The leaders of Congress, including Speaker McCormack and Rep. Carl Albert of Oklahoma, got on the long distance telephone to beg Colmer to come back to his job in Washington. He refused. So the education bill was stymied.

Colmer didn't say anything about it when he was rebuffing Democratic leaders on the telephone, but the inside fact is that the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare has cut off funds for the school district in Colmer's home town, Pascagoula, for failure to observe federal desegregation rules. Pascagoula schools got around $175,000 last year. This year, however, all but $18,000 had been held back due to Pascagoula's failure to desegregate.

Rep. Colmer is furious. For approximately 15 years he has been getting federal money for the schools in his district while they thumbed their noses at the Supreme Court. This year, for the first time, they haven't got away with it.

Speeding Ticket

Lincoln, Neb.

I received a ticket on Huntington Street and, according to the police, I was going over 30 miles an hour. My speedometer was showing between 25 and 30 miles an hour, and this is pretty accurate because I had it checked. This won't help any because the police are always right.

Cars continually go up this street at a high rate of speed and several after I received the ticket. Some of them travel over 40 miles an hour but one very seldom sees them get stopped. Some of the students travel at a high rate of speed through here, even when radar is set up, but they very seldom get stopped.

I know this happens because I live over here.

Also, another incident. A fellow was involved in an accident and it was the other driver's fault, but the driver wasn't ever received a ticket because, as the police put it, the police wouldn't stand a chance with him in court because he knew all the angles."

It's no wonder police are losing the support of some of us good citizens.

The Campus In Turmoil:

Signs Indicate Student Revolt Has Cooled From Worst Levels

(EDITORS NOTE: This is the first installment of a 12-part series on the campus revolt by two reporters who visited more than 30 campuses coast to coast. Each writer contributed six articles written in consultation with the other.)

By WALTER W. MEEK
With M. STANTON EVANS

College and university officials across the country are bracing for the expected "spring offensive" of the radical left.

But as Spring 1969 unfolds there are hopeful signs — no more than that — that the student revolt has cooled from its worst levels of violence in 1968.

There are indications that the New Left vanguard, the revolutionary Students for a Democratic Society, has slipped in effectiveness.

Among several developing trends, two in particular seem to be changing the course of student dissent. One is that moderate forces are rallying against the destructive tactics of SDS and its allies. The other is that the dissident minority has split into separate thrusts, white and black.

Harvard Incidents

Two incidents at ultra-liberal Harvard University illustrate the trends:

On a cold day last January, an all-white troupe of about 40 SDS members picketed in the snow to protest a course in riot control offered by Harvard's Graduate School of Design.

Inside the building a sit-in was in progress by another 150 students, all black. A spokesman told the instructor firmly that Harvard's Afro-American students would not permit a course designed "to suppress the only forms of protest remaining to black people."

While SDS kept its separate vigil in the snow, the protagonists inside decided to compromise. At last report the instructor had dedicated his course to the causes of riots instead of their control and was looking forward to a sizable black enrollment.

The issue evaporated, and so did the SDS pickets.

It was the second consecutive day that SDS was left in the cold. The previous day the Harvard faculty had voted to strip ROTC of its academic standing.

Victory For Moderates
SDS demanded that ROTC be ejected from the campus.

But the faculty pointedly made its decision on academic grounds presented by student leaders who had researched the question for months. The moderates had taken the issue and the initiative away from SDS.

That is one approach being used by campus moderates. Another is the coalition counterattack to insure that the majority vote is heard along with the radical outcry.

At colleges across the nation, elements opposed to the New Left are beginning to speak and act with conviction. Some agree with New Left goals but not its tactics; others disown the goals as well. But all are determined that the violence must stop.

The black students, bound up in racial pride and solidarity, have turned to their own leadership and counsel.

Separate Path

Under various banners across the country — Third World Liberation Front, Black Student Unions, Afro-American Student Associations — they are going their separate way.

The point was driven home last month when SDS launched its "spring offensive" at Columbia. Although this year's strike involved several items designed to appeal to Negroes, there was almost no black support for it. An SDS picket line in front of Columbia's Hamilton Hall featured only one black student, while several Negroes crossed the line to get into the building.

To keep the movement moving, campus radicals are grabbing at whatever provocations are handy: the presence of ROTC; campus recruiting by the armed services and defense industries; defense-related research on the campuses; grape boycotts and demonstrations against "objectionable" speakers.

Don't Excite Many

At most campuses these issues don't excite many students. Where such issues do have radical potential the trend among administrators and moderate student leaders is to deal with them before the radicals can magnify them into confrontations.

Whatever the trends seem to be, it's also true that the student revolution is in as many stages as there are colleges and universities. It has barely started to surface at some places.

As a dean at fairly placid

Arizona State University said, "I don't think I want to be sitting here at this desk the day they decide to abandon the Paris peace talks."

His counterpart at another southwestern school added, "I'll never say this place can't blow up. I just keep my fingers crossed."

NEXT: Sorting out the issues in student unrest.

Soviet Strength In Mediterranean Is 'Real Problem'

Naples, Italy (AP) — Soviet naval combat strength in the Mediterranean has reached an all-time high and has created "a real problem" for the Atlantic Alliance, the commander of allied forces in southern Europe said.

"There are today over 50 ships of the Soviet fleet in the Mediterranean, of which more than half are combatants," U.S. Adm. Horacio Rivero said at a NATO ceremony.

The Soviet buildup, with an unprecedented combination of ships from Black Sea and North Atlantic squadrons, indicates the Russians "may be preparing to conduct a major exercise" in the Mediterranean, Rivero added. The fleet includes conventional and nuclear submarines.

He said massive NATO sea and air maneuvers starting Sunday would practice surveillance of submarines and surface ships.

Survey: Confidence In Nixon Continues Among Americans

Confidence in the administration of President Richard Nixon continues strong among the American people. Although his overall job rating has edged up only marginally since early March — from 57% positive to 58% — the President has scored solid gains in particular areas. One of these is his handling of foreign policy, especially in the sphere of U.S. relations with our allies in Europe.

A significant finding of this latest Harris Survey is the relatively high regard in which Nixon is held personally. He is credited by 61% of the public for "inspiring confidence personally in the White House." The last reading on President Johnson on this dimension showed the then chief executive at a 33% positive mark. Within the past month, those giving Nixon a positive rating on his news conferences has risen five points, from 60% to 65%.

In the foreign policy area, 68% of the public registers approval of his recent trip to Europe. The number who give a positive rating to the President's "handling of relations with our allies in Europe" has jumped 12 points, from 51% to 63%. Similarly, Nixon's rating on his handling of the Vietnam negotiations has risen from 34% positive in March to 42% in the latest survey — an increase of eight points.

Problem Areas

The problem areas for the Nixon administration clearly rest in the domestic sphere. Although 50% give him good-to-excellent ratings for his overall approach to domestic problems, these are also the source of a shift among the "wait-and-see" group into the negative column. Well under half the public rates him positively on four specific domestic areas tested in this survey:

—On controlling the cost of living, President Nixon receives only a 27% positive rating, precisely the same score he received in March. The number giving him a negative rating on his handling of inflation, however, has jumped 13 points from 34% to 47%. Thus, in the cost-of-living area, the President has an almost two to one negative response from the American people. (This survey was

Solid

conducted between April 5th and April 11th, before the budget trimming and other domestic messages of the administration were unveiled this past week.)

—Another troubled area for the Nixon administration is on the question of handling taxes. In March, the public was evenly divided: 34% positive and 34% negative. A month later, the division had turned to 43% to 36% negative, mainly a reaction to the announced decision that the income tax surcharge was not going to be repealed this year.

—The area of civil rights and race has shown little change, with only 37% of the job Nixon is doing there. However, the negative side of the ledger shows a slight increase from 29% to 33%. The President's rating on this issue is hovering about where it was in the last year of the Johnson administration.

—Some erosion has taken place in the Nixon administration standing on handling the problem of crime control. While Nixon still has a 44% to 31% positive rating, this is not nearly as favorable as the 48% to 22% result obtained in March. The crime and safety issues, of course, were important issues in the President's election campaign in 1968.

Nixon Cabinet

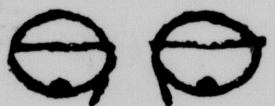

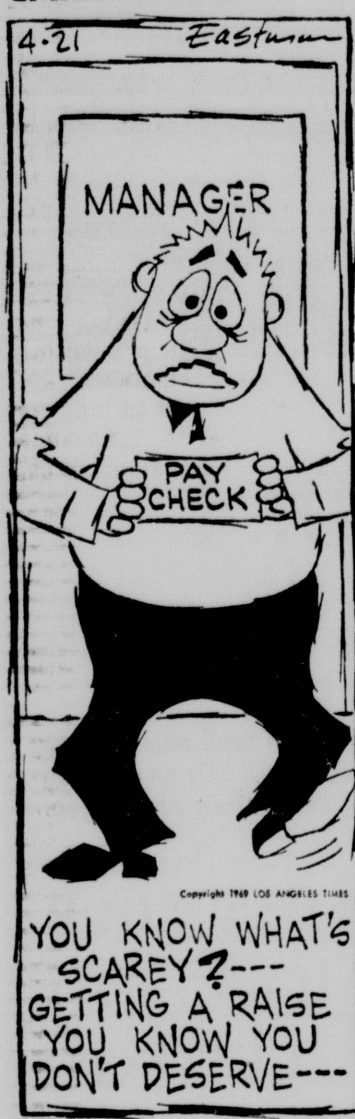

Opinion about the Nixon cabinet appears to be settling in at just over the 50% approval level, with no more than one quarter of the public critical of his appointments. This roughly two to one favorable rating was first recorded in January and has not changed by more than a few points.

Here is the trend in the President's ratings which were asked both in March and again this month:

Florentine baroque

BY JOHN CANADAY
(c) New York Times Service

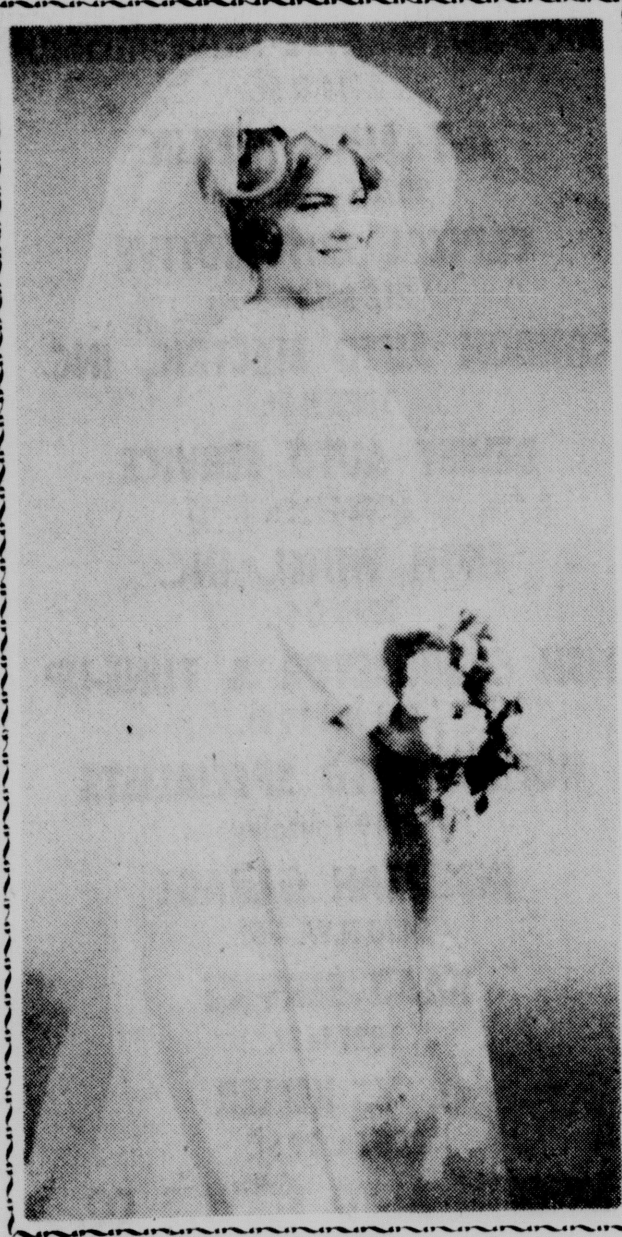

New York — With things going as they have been going lately at the Metropolitan Museum, one cannot avoid weighing each new exhibition to see which way the scales are tipping. It is my happy lot to report this week that "Florentine Baroque Art from American Collections," an excellent exhibition, more than counterbalances a lamentable one of sculpture by Jules Olitski, his debut in this field. Olitski is a darling of an in-group that in the good old days had to depend on the trade magazine's rather than our greatest museum's bulletin for his rave notices.

As a matter of fact, "Florentine Baroque Art from American Collections" is also something of an in-group show in a rather special way, since the revival of interest in the artists represented here has been limited, so far, to a few art historians. It was really not so very long ago that we thought of baroque style as the last degenerate agony of a renaissance in extremis, and even after we rediscovered its virtues, their manifestations in Florence never seemed to us to be quite up to par. It was as if that wonderful city, at once so severe and so intimate in aspect, and so finely ordered in its intellectual tradition, could not support the tempestuousness, the grandiloquence, and the gigantism by which the baroque proclaimed itself in Rome and other cities where early renaissance humanism had not set its mark so ineradicably.

There are loans from several major museums, the usual hunting grounds, but there is a high percentage from schools (including Bob Jones University and the University of Kansas as institutions whose collections might come to you as a surprise) and some small museums that New Yorkers are hardly aware of, such as the Washington County Museum of Fine Arts in Hagerstown, Md. The paintings and sculptures (less so the drawings) are unfamiliar less because so little attention has been given these artists than because such a good job has been done in ferreting out obscure treasures.

This is the kind of exhibition that falls so properly within the function of the Metropolitan, and is so unlikely to be accomplished elsewhere, that one wonders why in the world the museum's money and energy should go into a show like Olitski's, which is concerned with pure speculation — partly commercial gambling and wholly esthetic gambling — and is the province of several other museums that fulfill the function in competition with one another. Leaving out all consideration of the merits or demerits of the sculpture, or even conceding for argument's sake that it is bang-up, my question, in real puzzlement, is what the Metropolitan has to gain or to give by its exhibition.

Bride On Sunday

The chapel of First-Plymouth Congregational Church was appointed with tall arrangements of yellow gladioli and roses for the Sunday evening, April 20, wedding of Miss Deborah Stettinger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Stettinger, and Marvin Ebers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Merle Ebers of Seward. The 7 o'clock service was solemnized by the Rev. Lawrence Stanton, and C. Richard Morris, organist, played the wedding music.

Wearing slim, Empire frocks in the avocado green shade and carrying nosegays of yellow roses were Miss Susan Stettinger, who was her sister's maid of honor, and the bridesmaid, Miss Janice Stettinger, also a sister of the bride.

Barry Blue served Mr. Ebers as best man, and the groomsmen were Michael Conrad. Seating the guests were Larry Ebers of Seward, and Bill Ebers, brothers of the bridegroom.

Floral appliques of Swiss lace patterned the bride's gown of white silk organza. The lace touched the high throatline and continued over the shoulders into the long organza sleeves, tightly cuffed at the wrists, and the applique motif was repeated on the slender skirt and the detachable court train. Her circular illusion veil was held by a cap of jeweled lace and organza petals.

Mr. and Mrs. Ebers will live at Cherry Point, N.C., where the bridegroom is stationed with the Marine Corps. Both are former students at the University of Nebraska.

If The "Smothers" Find Work They Might Hire Nebraska Miss

A young Nebraska career girl just might have the opportunity to become the personal secretary for the Smothers Brothers — conditioned by a few "if's," of course.

Miss Kathleen Miles of Sidney, was chosen "Career Girl of the Year" from among 60 candidates throughout the nation by Tom and Dick Smothers, who served as judges for the annual competition sponsored by the Nancy Taylor charm program for women students at all National College of Business schools.

In a telegram of congratulations to Kathleen, the Smothers brothers said, "If we have found work ourselves and are looking for a secretary, we just might try to lure you away from your present employer."

An honor student at the National College of Business in Rapid City, S.D., Kathleen was chosen on the basis of her personal appearance, charm, and professional secretarial skills, and will leave next Friday on a three-week tour of European cities, which with a set of luggage, a cash award and a trophy, accompanies her national title.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Miles of rural Sidney, Kathleen was homecoming queen and March of Dimes queen during her high school days; a cheerleader; and member of Pep Club, student council, dramatics club, chorus and 4-H Club.

A Perfect Pizza

BY CRAIG CLAIBORNE
(c) New York Times Service

New York — "In New York," Pablo Zappi-Manzoni said recently, "they use an abuse of garlic and tomato sauces in Italian restaurants, and as for meat balls..." the voice paused as though trying to find the proper inflection. "They are an American invention."

Manzoni, like most of his countrymen and anyone else familiar with the restaurants of Rome, Milan and Florence, has few kind words for New York's cucina Italiana.

The 29-year-old gentleman is a descendant of royalty and a native of Bologna who has acquired quite a reputation as an amateur cook in Manhattan, although he never so much as boiled an egg before he arrived here five years ago. He is creative director for Elizabeth Arden and was formerly that concern's chief make-up man. In fact, he relates the ability to reproduce flavors in foods to that of reproducing scents in bottles or jars.

Manzoni has mastered numerous dishes from his memories of home, including fungi or mushrooms trifolati plus various veal dishes. Those who have sampled his creations read like a Who's Who of Europe: Princess Elizabeth of Yugoslavia, Tony Cointreau, the singer and scion of the liquer family; Barbara and Marco Butoni of the Macaroni monarchy; Princess Irene Galitzine and Emilio Pucci, the designers, and Piero Aversa, the artist.

One of Manzoni's most widely acclaimed dishes is pizza made with anchovy paste, tomatoes and Mozzarella.

PIZZA

- 1 package dry yeast
 - 1 cup lukewarm water
 - 3 cups flour
 - 5 tablespoons oil
 - Salt to taste
 - 3 cups peeled chopped tomatoes, fresh or canned (if canned, use the imported Italian kind)
 - 2 teaspoons oregano
 - Freshly ground pepper to taste
 - 2 tablespoons anchovy paste
 - 1 cup cubed Mozzarella
 - 1-3 cup freshly grated parmesan cheese
1. Soften the yeast in the water and stir.
 2. Place flour on a flat surface and make a hole in the center. Add one tablespoon oil and salt to taste. Start adding yeast, mixing in the flour with the fingers. Continue working flour and yeast until all liquid is used. The dough should be soft but not sticky. Add a little more water or flour if necessary to make a proper dough.

3. Turn dough out onto a floured surface and knead until very smooth and elastic.

4. Place dough in a greased bowl, grease surface, cover with a towel and let rise in a warm place (80 to 85 degrees) until double in bulk, about one and one-half hours.

5. Meanwhile, heat three tablespoons oil and add tomatoes, half the oregano, salt and pepper to taste. Simmer about five minutes and set aside.

6. Preheat the oven to 500 degrees.

7. Brush a 15-by-10-inch jelly roll pan with one tablespoon oil. (Manzoni uses a Teflon pan). Sprinkle it lightly with salt.

8. Turn dough out of the bowl onto a floured surface and shape it into a ball. Roll dough into a rectangle about the size of pan. Place dough in the pan and press and stretch with fingers until dough touches the sides of the pan including the rim. Trim off excess dough.

9. Dot surface of dough at two-inch intervals with anchovy paste. Spoon tomato sauce evenly over dough and sprinkle with remaining oregano. Dot top with Mozzarella and sprinkle with parmesan.

10. Bake pizza on lower shelf of oven until browned, 15 to 20 minutes. Cut into squares and serve hot.

Yield: four to eight servings.

FUNGHI TRIFOLATI

(a mushroom dish)

- 1/2 cup olive oil
 - 3 cloves garlic, peeled and left whole
 - 4 cups thinly sliced mushrooms
 - 1/4 cup chopped parsley
 - Salt and freshly ground pepper to taste
1. Heat oil in a saucepan and add garlic. Cook until garlic just starts to brown. Remove and discard garlic.
 2. Add mushrooms and parsley to pan. Do not add more liquid as mushrooms will give up their own. Cover and cook, stirring occasionally and shaking pan, 35 minutes or until most of the mushroom liquid is reabsorbed.
 3. Season to taste with salt and pepper and serve as an accompaniment for meat or poultry.
- Yield: four servings.

Opening lead — queen of diamonds.

Most players bid naturally and shun artificial conventions. When they bid spades they have spades, when they bid clubs they have clubs, and so on.

But in some circles artificial bidding is very much the vogue. Frequently this fails to produce the best result because the practitioners get so involved with their artificial bids that one partner or the other misreads a bid, and the end product is the wrong contract.

One outstanding exception in this field is the Italian team, who during the past twelve years have asserted their dominance in the world of bridge. The Italians use many artificial bids, but they are rarely caught off base by their methods. Their top players are first-rate and they usually reach the best contract.

Take this hand played in 1961 in the U.S.-Italy match. Forquet was North and Garozzo South for Italy.

The club bid was artificial and showed at least 17 points. Two clubs was also artificial — it guaranteed an ace and a king, or three kings.

Two notrump was natural and showed a balanced hand. Three clubs, three hearts and four clubs were all natural also. Four diamonds was a cuebid accepting clubs as trumps.

North's redouble showed second round diamond control. Four spades was a further cuebid. Four notrump was a slam try (not Blackwood). Five clubs denied additional values and North therefore stopped at six and made seven when the spade finesse succeeded).

The American North-South pair got fouled up in the bidding and arrived at a final contract of four hearts (which declarer just barely made). The bidding went:

West	North	East	South
Pass	1 ♠	Pass	1 ♥
Pass	2 ♠	Pass	2 ♠
Pass	3 ♠	Pass	4 ♠
Pass	4 ♥

Abby: dilemma

DEAR ABBY: I've been keeping steady company with a retired, very well-to-do gentleman for the last 3 years. I vacation in Arizona where he owns a lovely home. We're both in our mid-sixties.

He asked me to marry him, so I went to my horoscope reader and I told her about him and his proposal, and she said my stars were not right to marry at this time, and I should wait until the signs were better for me.

I told this gentleman I wanted to think about it for a while, and he went north on business and I haven't seen him since. Perhaps I should have accepted his proposal. What do you think?

VIRGO

DEAR VIRGO: If he's worth following, find "business" of your own "up north" and nail him. If he's not already married to your horoscope reader, that is.

IN Suburbia

April is nearly gone, and we suspect that the youngsters with the worst cases of spring fever already are counting the days until the last school bells of the season ring, and they are "free" for three months. And likewise, there are probably mothers who are counting the days, but for another reason and not as eagerly as the students!

Along with its famous showers, April seems to be a month characterized by greetings — "hellos" to new residents and "goodbyes" to those who are leaving the city for new homes, for flowers are not the only things which are transplanted this time of year.

Not all of the comings and goings are from town to town or state to state, however. Two April movers that we know of simply went a bit south and west — From 3125 N. 64 in Meadow Lane to a home at 1912 N. 67.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Kirby changed their address a week ago, and are now taking advantage of the cooperative weather to become acquainted with their garden.

There is a new face at 7311 Old Post Road in Wellington Greens, and it belongs to a very young newcomer. She is Miss Caroline Michelle Daly, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Daly, and she arrived exactly a week ago — on Monday, April 14, at Bryan Memorial Hospital.

Caroline's grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Leo A. Daly of Omaha, and Mr. and Mrs. A. James Gallagher, Jr., who make their home in Palatine, Ill.

Another of the "younger-than-spring-time" new residents is making herself at home at 431 Teakwood in Wedgewood Manor. Arriving on April 10 at Lincoln General Hospital, Miss Karin Marie Brown was promptly and enthusiastically approved of by her two brothers, Scott, 9, and Rickey, 5. Equally happy are her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Brown, and her grandmothers, Mrs. John M. McDonald of Lincoln, and Mrs. Mercia Brown of Los Angeles, Calif.

Guests at the Wedgewood Manor home of Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Miller until the end of April are Mr. Miller's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Miller, who have decided that Nebraska puts on too much of a show for winter to suit them.

Mr. and Mrs. Miller, who moved to Lincoln in November, have decided to move to Sikeston, Mo., a location near the home they had before coming to Nebraska. Their address in Lincoln was 640 N. 70.

(See All-Family and Husband-Wife plans below)

Plus increased extra cash for cancer, heart attack or stroke

REGARDLESS OF YOUR AGE OR THE SIZE OF YOUR FAMILY, YOU CAN ENROLL FOR ONLY $1.00.

During this Limited Enrollment Period, you can enroll yourself and all eligible members of your family simply by mailing the Enrollment Form below with $1. There's nothing else to do—but you must mail your Enrollment no later than Midnight, May 25, 1969!

Think of it. Now, with a stroke of your pen, you can have tax-free, expense-free extra cash paid direct to you when a sudden accident or unexpected illness hospitalizes you or a covered member of your family! And you may enroll during this Limited Enrollment Period without having to see a company representative and without any red tape whatsoever. All you need do is mail the Enrollment Form below together with just $1 before the expiration date. It's that easy!

Why You Need Extra Cash In Addition To Ordinary Hospital Insurance
Anyone who has been in the hospital recently knows ordinary hospital insurance—even Medicare—simply will not cover everything. You have to pay many "extras" out of your own pocket—and it can add up to hundreds of dollars in a frighteningly short time.

But even if your ordinary hospital insurance covers most of your medical and hospital bills, what about the bills that keep piling up at home?

If you, as husband, father and breadwinner are suddenly hospitalized, your income stops, your expenses go up. Even if you have some kind of "salary insurance" it probably won't come close to replacing your full-time pay.

If your wife is suddenly hospitalized, who will look after the family, do the laundry, the marketing, the cleaning? You may have to take time off from your job—or hire full-time domestic help—to take care of things at home.

If one of your children is suddenly hospitalized, you will certainly spare no expense. You wouldn't even think of the cost.

If you're over 65 and are suddenly hospitalized, Medicare, fine as it is, won't pay all of your hospital expenses or any household expenses. Most senior citizens won't want to use up savings it may have taken a lifetime to accumulate... they want to retain their independence and not become a "burden" to their children or community.

Without "extra cash" protection, a hospital emergency may leave you with savings gone, debts you can't pay, peace of mind shattered—even your recovery can be seriously delayed by money worries!

How The Plan Protects You And Your Family
Now, with the unique "extra cash" protection of The Doctors Hospital Plan you can avoid these worries because you can be assured of extra cash income when you or any covered member of your family goes to the hospital. No matter how large your family, no matter what your age or occupation and without any qualifications whatsoever, you can choose any of the four low-cost plans shown at right to meet your family's special needs.

In addition to the "extra cash" hospital benefits, you get all these valuable "extra" features:

Your "Health-Bank Account" Grows Each Month

Here's a wonderful benefit, no matter which plan you choose—almost like having an extra "Bank Account." When your policy is issued, your insurance provides up to $10,000, $7,500, or $5,000—depending upon the plan you choose. This is your "Health-Bank Account."

Then, every month your policy is in force, a sum equal to your regular monthly premium (including your first month) is actually added to your maximum! When you have claims, your benefits are subtracted from your "account." It's much like putting money in and taking it out of a bank account.

Enjoy Life-Long Security

For as long as you live and continue to pay your premiums, we will never cancel or refuse to renew your policy for health reasons—and we guarantee that we will never cancel, modify or terminate your policy unless we decline renewal or modify all policies of this type in your entire state or until the maximum (Aggregate of Benefits) of your policy has been paid.

You May Actually Come Out "Money Ahead!"

Because The Doctors Hospital Plan pays you in addition to any other company's health insurance you carry—individual, group or even Medicare—and because all your extra cash benefits are tax-free, you may leave the hospital many dollars ahead... money you don't have to account for to anyone. Of course, you may have only one like policy with Physicians Mutual.

Enroll For Only $1

Regardless of your age, the size of your family, or the plan you select, you get your first month for only $1.00. If you choose the All-Family Plan—all your eligible children (including future additions) are included at no extra cost. (See box at right for low rates.)

Extra Cash Protection At Surprisingly Low Cost

How can a hospital plan offer so much for so little? The answer is simple: We have lower total costs. The Doctors Hospital Plan is a mass enrollment plan. All business is conducted between you and the company by mail. No salesmen will call. It all adds up to real savings we share with you by giving you high quality protection at low cost.

Offered by Physicians Mutual "The Doctors Company"!

Your policy is backed by the resources, integrity and reputation of the Physicians Mutual Insurance Company, "the doctors company," specializing in health and accident protection for physicians, surgeons and dentists for more than 65 years. Dunne's Insurance Reports, one of the leading insurance industry authorities in the nation, gives Physicians Mutual its highest policyholders' rating of "A Plus (Excellent)." Serving hundreds of thousands of policyholders throughout the United States direct by mail, Physicians Mutual has its headquarters in Omaha,

CHOOSE THE PLAN THAT SUITS YOU BEST

ALL-FAMILY PLAN $10,000 MAXIMUM

PAYS YOU: $100 weekly ($14.28 daily) extra cash when you are hospitalized. $75 weekly ($10.71 daily) when your wife is hospitalized. $50 weekly ($7.14 daily) for each eligible child hospitalized.

If yours is a young, growing family, we recommend the All-Family Plan. All your children (including future additions) between 3 months of age and under 21 are included at no extra cost as long as they are unmarried and live at home.

You pay only $7.95 a month and you get your first month for only $1.00!

ONE-PARENT FAMILY PLAN $7,500 MAXIMUM

PAYS YOU: $100 weekly ($14.28 daily) extra cash when you are hospitalized. $50 weekly ($7.14 daily) for each eligible child hospitalized.

If you are the only parent living with your children, we suggest the One-Parent Family Plan. This plan has been tailored to help meet your particular needs. It covers you and all unmarried children living at home between 3 months of age and under 21.

You pay only $5.95 a month and you get your first month for only $1.00!

HUSBAND-WIFE PLAN $7,500 MAXIMUM

PAYS YOU: $100 weekly ($14.28 daily) extra cash when you are hospitalized. $75 weekly ($10.71 daily) when your wife is hospitalized.

If you have no children, or if your children are grown and no longer dependent on you, you will want the Husband-Wife Plan.

You pay only $6.45 a month and you get your first month for only $1.00!

INDIVIDUAL PLAN $5,000 MAXIMUM

PAYS YOU: $100 weekly ($14.28 daily) extra cash when you are hospitalized.

If you are living by yourself, or if you wish to cover only yourself or one family member, choose the Individual Plan.

You pay only $3.95 monthly and you get your first month for only $1.00!

On all plans, your "extra cash" benefits are paid from the very first day you enter the hospital, for as long—and for as many times—as you are hospitalized, right up to the maximum (Aggregate of Benefits) of the plan you select.

Naturally The Doctors Hospital Plan will cover any new accident or sickness. New accidents are covered immediately. After your policy is 30 days old, you are covered for new sicknesses which begin thereafter. There are only these minimum necessary exceptions: pregnancy or any consequence thereof

(unless you have the All-Family Plan or the Husband-Wife Plan, each of which covers maternity after the policy is in force for 10 months), war, military service, mental disorder, alcoholism or drug addiction, or conditions covered by Workmen's Compensation or Employers Liability Laws.

You are free to go to any hospital of your own choice, with these exceptions only: nursing homes; convalescent, extended-care, or self-care units of hospitals; or Federal hospitals.

SPECIAL EXTRA BENEFITS!

Whichever plan you choose, you get:

50% INCREASE IN YOUR CASH BENEFITS... if you or any member of your family is hospitalized for cancer (including Leukemia and Hodgkin's Disease), heart attack (acute myocardial infarction, coronary thrombosis and coronary occlusion), or stroke (apoplexy).

If you choose the All-Family Plan or the Husband-Wife Plan, you get in addition:

DOUBLE CASH BENEFITS if both you and your wife are injured and hospitalized at the same time: You get twice the amount—$350 A WEEK!

Important: Here is another real "plus"—if you have been told that anyone in your family is "uninsurable!" Even if one of your covered family members has suffered from chronic ailments in the past—ailments that come back again and again, or are likely to recur—you will be covered for these pre-existing conditions after your policy has been in force for one year!

IF YOU ARE OVER 65

Even though Medicare will pay most of your hospital expenses it will not cover all of your needs. During this limited enrollment, you can get the extra cash protection needed during the high-risk senior years without any qualifications just by using the form below!

It's a fact that people over 65 go to hospitals more often and have larger hospital bills. That's exactly why they need extra cash protection! And that's why some hospital plans won't accept them or charge rates beyond their means. But The Doctors Hospital Plan not only accepts you regardless of age, it gives you easy-to-carry protection that is within your means. If you are over 65 now, or when you become 65, the following modest monthly additional rate applies:

Female on All-Family or Husband-Wife Plan	$2.50
Female on One-Parent Family or Individual Plan	3.50
Male on Any Plan	3.50

19 Important Questions Answered ABOUT THE NEW DOCTORS HOSPITAL PLAN

1. What is The Doctors Hospital Plan?

The Doctors Hospital Plan is a brand-new, low-cost health protection plan—that pays extra cash direct to you when a covered accident or illness hospitalizes you or a covered member of your family.

2. Why do I need The Doctors Hospital Plan in addition to my regular insurance?

Probably your present hospital insurance won't cover all your hospital expenses, but even if it does, you will still need help to cover all your household expenses when you are hospitalized.

3. Can I collect even if I carry other health insurance?

Yes, The Doctors Hospital Plan pays you in addition to any health insurance you carry, whether individual or group—even in addition to Medicare! And all your benefits are tax-free! Of course, you may have only one like policy with Physicians Mutual.

4. Is there a lot of red tape to qualify?

None at all. Your only qualification is to complete and mail your Enrollment Form by the deadline date shown.

5. Which plan should I choose?

You may choose any of four low-cost plans—you can actually select the exact plan that suits you best!

If yours is a young, growing family, we recommend the ALL-FAMILY PLAN. You and your wife are covered at once for accidents, for new sicknesses after 30 days, and for maternity benefits after 10 months. All your children (and future additions) between 3 months and under 21 are included, at no extra cost, as long as they are unmarried and live at home.

If you are the only parent living with your children, we suggest the ONE-PARENT FAMILY PLAN. This covers you and all unmarried children living at home between 3 months of age and under 21.

If you have no children as yet, or if you have children who are grown and no longer dependent on you, you will want the HUSBAND-WIFE PLAN.

Or, if you are living by yourself, choose the INDIVIDUAL PLAN.

6. If I become hospitalized, when do my benefits begin?

On all plans, your cash benefits are paid from the very first day of covered hospital confinement, for as long—and for as many times—as you are hospitalized, up to the maximum (Aggregate of Benefits) of the plan you choose.

7. How much can I be paid?

Each plan has its own "Aggregate of Benefits," what we call the maximum.

For example, under the ALL-FAMILY PLAN, the maximum is $10,000—$100 a week ($14.28 a day) extra cash income for you; $75 weekly ($10.71 daily) for your wife; $50 weekly ($7.14 daily) for each of your eligible children.

Under the ONE-PARENT FAMILY PLAN, the maximum is $7,500—$100 weekly ($14.28 daily) for you; $50 weekly ($7.14 daily) for each of your eligible children.

Under the HUSBAND-WIFE PLAN, the maximum is $7,500—$100 weekly ($14.28 daily) for you; $75 weekly ($10.71 daily) for your wife.

Under the INDIVIDUAL PLAN, the maximum is $5,000—$100 a week ($14.28 a day) for you.

8. Are any additional benefits included in The Doctors Hospital Plan?

Yes. You receive a 50% increase in cash benefits if you or any covered family member is hospitalized for cancer (including Leukemia and Hodgkin's Disease), heart attack (acute myocardial infarction, coronary thrombosis and coronary occlusion), or stroke (apoplexy).

9. What are the "double" cash benefits?

If you and your wife are both injured and hospitalized at the same time and are covered by the ALL-FAMILY PLAN or the HUSBAND-WIFE PLAN, you get double cash benefits. You get twice the amount—$350 A WEEK!

10. Does this plan pay in any hospital?

You will be covered in any hospital except nursing homes; convalescent, extended-care, or self-care units of hospitals; or Federal hospitals.

11. When does my policy go into force?

It becomes effective the very same day we receive your Enrollment Form. New accidents are covered on that date. After your policy is 30 days old, new sicknesses which begin thereafter are covered. Under the ALL-FAMILY PLAN and the HUSBAND-WIFE PLAN, childbirth or pregnancy or any consequence thereof is covered after your policy is in force for 10 months.

12. What if someone in my family has had a health problem that may occur again?

Even if one of your covered family members has suffered from chronic ailments in the past, pre-existing conditions are covered after the policy has been in force for one year.

13. What conditions aren't covered?

Only these minimum necessary exceptions: pregnancy or any consequence thereof (unless you have the ALL-FAMILY PLAN or the HUSBAND-WIFE PLAN), war,

Nebraska, and is licensed and incorporated in that state. Its Board of Directors is composed entirely of respected members of the medical, dental and insurance professions.

Easy To Enroll! No Salesman Will Call!

During this limited enrollment period there are no other qualifications other than to complete and mail the Enrollment Form below. We will issue your Doctors Hospital Policy (Form P322 Series) immediately—the same day we receive your form. This

14. Can I drop out any time? Can you drop me?

We will never cancel or refuse to renew your policy for health reasons—for as long as you live and continue to pay your premiums. We guarantee that we will never cancel, modify or terminate your policy unless we decline renewal or modify all policies of this type in your entire state or until the maximum (Aggregate of Benefits) of your policy has been paid. You, of course, can drop your policy on any renewal date.

15. Why is The Doctors Hospital Plan almost like having an extra "bank account"?

When your policy is issued, your insurance provides up to $10,000, $7,500, or $5,000—depending upon the plan you choose. This is your "Health-Bank Account." Then, every month your policy is in force, a sum equal to your regular monthly premium (including your first month) is actually added to your maximum. When you have claims, benefits are subtracted from your "account!"

16. Will my claims be handled promptly?

Yes. With your policy, you will receive a simple, easy-to-use Claim Form. Your claims will be processed quickly and your checks sent directly to you.

17. Why are the premiums so low?

With The Doctors Hospital Plan, you actually get all these benefits—at such a low cost—because this is a mass enrollment plan—and no salesmen will call. Our volume is higher and our total sales costs are lower.

18. How much does my first month cost?

Only $1.00, regardless of your age, the size of your family or the plan you select. After the first month, if you are under 65, you pay only these low monthly rates: only $7.95 a month for the ALL-FAMILY PLAN; only $5.95 a month for the ONE-PARENT FAMILY PLAN; only $6.45 a month for the HUSBAND-WIFE PLAN; only $3.95 a month for the INDIVIDUAL PLAN. (When you are over 65, premiums increase. See modest increase in box above.)

19. Why should I enroll right now?

Because an unexpected sickness or accident could strike without warning—and you will not be covered until your policy is in force. Remember, if for any reason you change your mind, you may return your policy within 10 days and your $1.00 will be refunded immediately.

Prep Relay And Field Events Chart Reveals Very Little Improvement

By VIRGIL PARKER
Prep Sports Writer

The best performance throughout the state of Nebraska in the three relays and five field events improved very little during the past week, as revealed by today's current chart on the top ten.

Only one new leader appears. Omaha Tech improved its 880 relay time, but the Tech speedsters already led the state a week ago with a 1:29.6 timing. They clipped an addition four-tenths of a second off that clocking to lower the state's top time to 1:29.2.

The new leader appears in the two-mile relay, where Omaha Rummel jumps up from the seventh position to the top of the heap. Rummel zoomed past previous leader Omaha Westside with a 8:12.0, bettering last week's best by nearly three seconds.

Lincoln High remains third in the two mile relay, though the Links improved last week's time from 8:17.8 to 8:15.4.

The other relay has the same three teams pacing the efforts throughout the state. Omaha North continues as the mile relay leader, though Grand Island moved past Tech into second place this week.

The field events find no changes among the two leaders, although in the pole vault Lincoln Southeast's Bill Eaton takes over the second spot by himself. Previously tied with North Platte's Bill Lauer at 13-4, Eaton moved up a half-inch closer to leader Don Tripp of Omaha Bryan who paces the vaulters with a leap of 13-10 1/2.

The discus finds no change or improvement among the top three leaders, while the other three field events all have a change in the third position.

The two leaders in the shot put, long jump and high jump didn't improve or get displaced, but Phil Kloepper of Hastings moved up to third in the shot put from fifth place.

Bassett's Bill Williams went by Joe Blahak of Columbus Scotus in the long jump to take third spot away from the Scotus ace with an improvement of four inches.

TRADED BOSOX SLUGGER HANGS 'EM UP

Jim Ryun Bows Out With Glory

Lawrence, Kan. (AP) — Jim Ryun bowed out in a blaze of glory.

The great Kansas miler will run again, but he won't run before the home folks as a collegian again.

This is his senior year with the Jayhawks, and Kansas has no more home track appearances this spring. That's what made Ryun's final performance in a KU uniform so memorable in the 44th Kansas Relays.

"It's nice to finish like this," the lanky, mild-mannered Wichita, Kan., native said after he ran the anchor mile on Kansas' distance medley relay team which broke the world record Saturday.

Ryan paced off a 3:57.6 mile as the Jayhawk quartet was clocked in 9:33.0, bettering the world mark of 9:33.4 set by the Fort MacArthur, Calif., team last year.

He also paced KU to victory in the four-mile relay Friday, running the mile in 4:01.2 in that event.

For his two performances Ryun was named the meet's outstanding participant. It was the third time in the past four years he has won the award. He missed last year.

"I'm just happy I could help our team do this well," Ryun offered modestly.

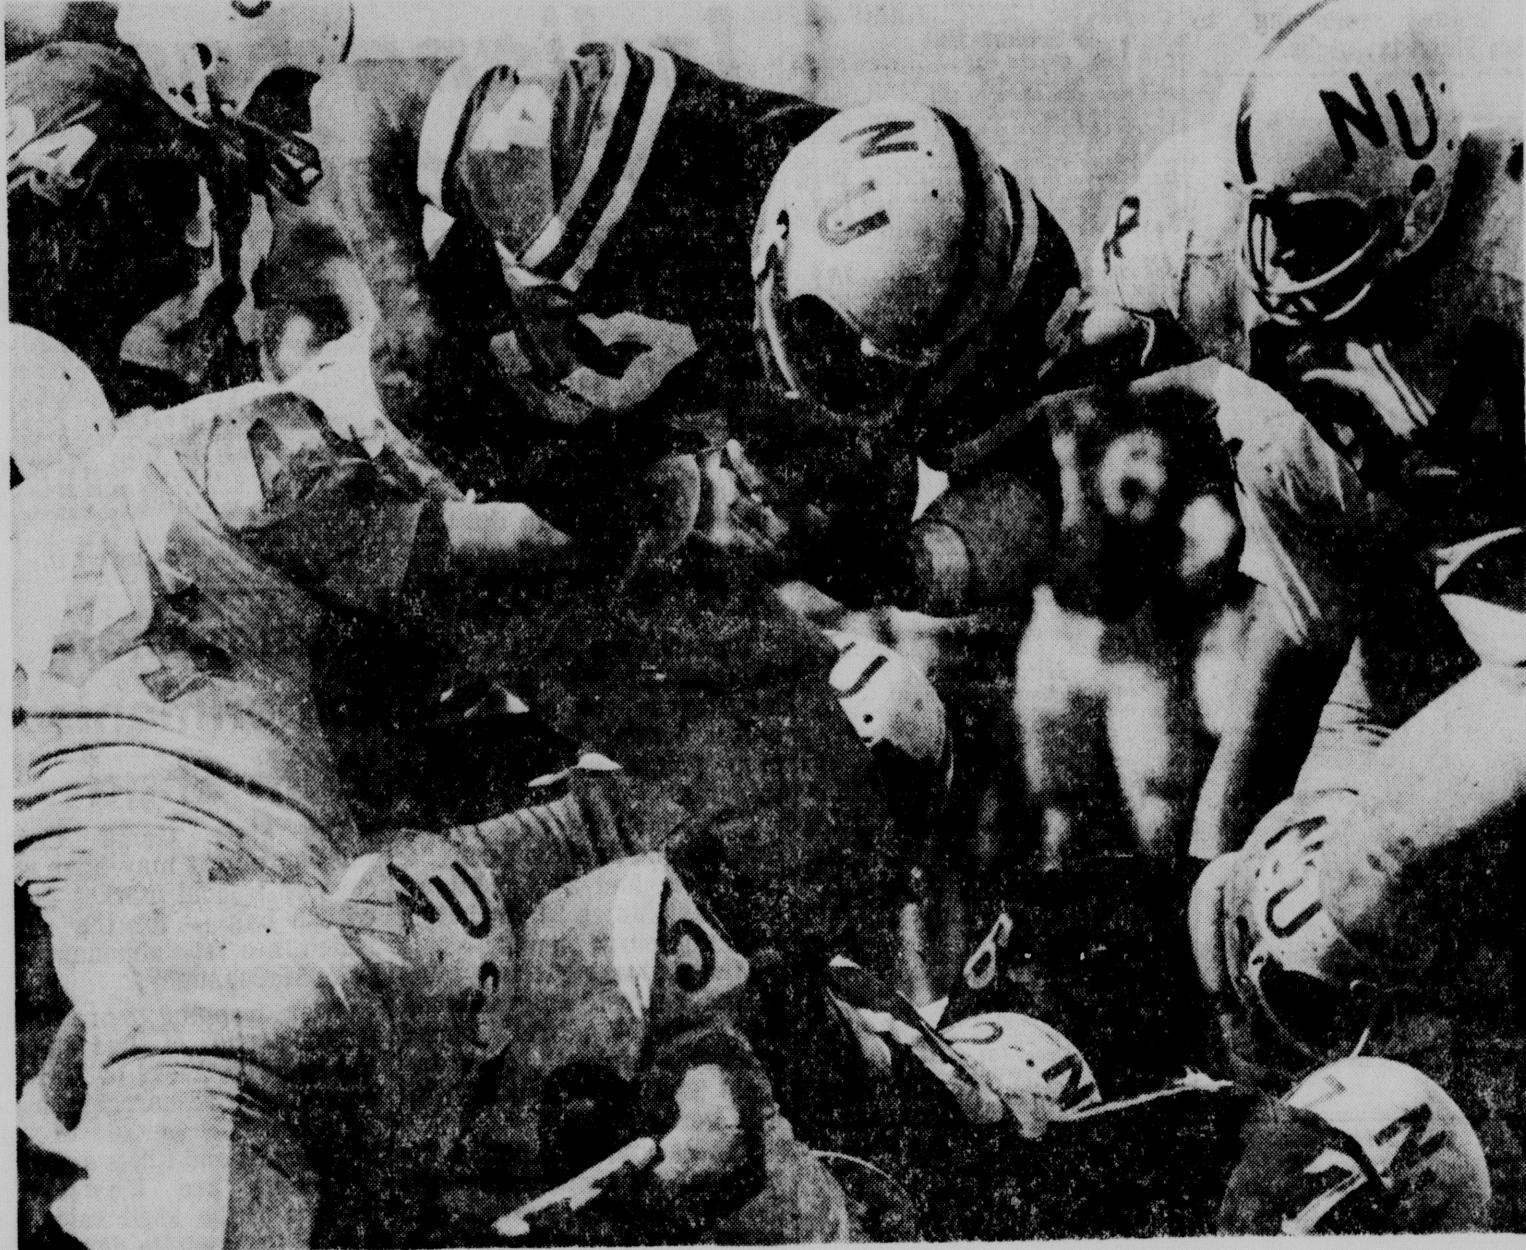

Kansas also won the 440 and 880 relays behind Julio Meade's blazing anchor legs. The Jayhawks set a meet record of 40.3 seconds in the 440 relay.

That gave Kansas four relay victories out of seven events.

The Jayhawks also tacked on seven individual championships and two other records for the biggest splash any team has ever made in the Kansas, Texas or Drake Relays. Drake is 59 years old, Kansas 44 and Texas 42.

Only Kansas State's triumphs in the sprint medley and two-mile relays and Rice's win in the mile relay dented Kansas victory march.

In all 14 records fell, highlighted by the KU world record in the distance medley.

END OF THE LINE . . . Husker fullback Mike Green is tackled by linebackers Bruce Hauge, 44, and George Chandler, 54.

Defense, No. 2 Offense Please Devaney

... HUSKER COACH HAPPY WITH FIRST SPRING SCRIMMAGE

By HAL BROWN
Star Sports Editor

A pleased Bob Devaney reflected on what he had been watching for two hours Sunday and figured there were a number of things he saw that he liked in the first scrimmage session of Nebraska's spring football drills.

"I think it was a pretty good scrimmage," he pointed out. "I think we have the nucleus of a good defense, yet our No. 2 offense, with not much experience, moved the ball pretty well against them after having trouble early in the scrimmage."

That second unit offense was directed by sophomore quarterback Van Brownson, who drew Devaney's praise for "doing a good job the last time around in the scrimmage."

Both Tony Dvorsak and Brownson were adequate and Brownson looked good at times.

Dvorsak directed the No. 1 offense with Frank Patrick shelved by a jammed wrist.

But another quarterback also caught the head coach's watchful eye Sunday.

"I think the most improved quarterback we've got is Jerry Tagge," Devaney said. "And if he continues to look good as a runner, we may try him at a running back spot if he doesn't fit in as either the No. 1 or No. 2 quarterback. A big kid like that should be able to play somewhere for us."

Tagge is a 6-1, 220-pounder from Green Bay, Wis.

The Husker coach was pleased with the running backs Jim Smith and Jeff Hughes, but added, "They need to learn to read their blocks a little better."

"And I think Bill Bomberger did a good job of running today along with Lanny Graves at fullback. Mike Green came up with some good blocks."

Defensively, Devaney was happy with the first two units, observing, "They played good, steady ball through most of the scrimmage."

"Wes Mabin (sophomore defensive back) had a good day as did Alan Larson and Sherwin Jarmon. It's pretty tough to fool Sherwin. He's a pretty good defensive end."

Ken Geddes seems to be catching on to the middle guard position and Pat Morell looked good among the young linebackers."

The Husker head coach also cited defensive tackle Bob Liggett for having a good scrimmage.

"Bob has lost about 25 pounds and is down to 250 which has helped his quickness," Devaney explained. Another big weight loser is Don McGhee who has trimmed off about 45 pounds.

"We have moved Paul Topliff to tackle," Devaney observed. "And he got off to a bad start today with Liggett beating him pretty good, but he came back and was doing a better job at the end of the scrimmage."

But there also were some disappointments in the scrimmage session, one of them the center position.

"We've got a problem at center," Devaney admitted. "There's no sense trying to kid ourselves about it."

Another disappointment was the continuation of injury problems with sophomore defensive end Jim Miller suffering a leg injury and offensive guard Charles Mensor suffering a dislocated elbow.

Mensor is the fourth offensive lineman to suffer a dislocated elbow this spring.

Harrelson said he had notified the Red Sox of his decision when he and Woolf went to the ball park earlier.

"They wished me luck in whatever I do," he said.

Harrelson added that he had also notified Cleveland manager Alvin Dark, for whom he played previously with the Kansas City Athletics.

Scores of fans jammed the area outside Woolf's law office where Harrelson held his news conference.

Fans protesting the trade picketed Fenway Park before the ball game.

There was no immediate indication from officials of either American League ball club on how Harrelson's retirement will effect the trade.

Asked if he would reconsider his retirement in the event the Red Sox took him back, Harrelson said he would have to give that serious consideration.

"It's very, very possible I have played my last game of baseball — at 27 years old, I hate like hell to even think about it. I'm just getting into my prime at 27. I just really can't believe it — The Hawk sitting here and announcing his retirement."

"Just two days ago I hit two homers in a game — almost three. I'd love to continue playing, but I just can't. I think anyone in the same situation would do the same thing. All I'm trying to do is build the strongest foundation I can for my children," he said.

"It's simply a business thing. I have four children I have to take care of," Harrelson said.

Bill Browley, public relations director for the Red Sox, admitted that the long-haired slugger had "captured the area by storm."

"Harrelson's like a rocket in the New England area," Crowley said. "He's captured everybody's imagination."

A trade "is always in the background" for almost every ballplayer, Crowley added.

The youthful pickets outside the ball park carried homemade signs referring to Williams as a "traitor" for trading Harrelson.

"The Red Sox can't win without the Hawk," said one placard as fans entered Fenway.

In New York, the baseball commissioner, Bowie Kuhn, said "I have been in touch with both clubs. We are looking into the situation."

Omaha Whips 89ers, 12-10

Oklahoma City (UPI) — The Omaha Royals slugged their way to a 12-10 victory over the Oklahoma City 89ers Sunday afternoon in an American Association baseball game in Oklahoma City.

The 89ers cracked out 15 safeties compared to 13 for Omaha.

The Royals' Paul Schaal had two home runs and a double, and scored three times. John Mayberry of the 89ers had two home runs, one with two men on base, two singles and scored four runs.

Larry Howard cracked a three run homer in the first inning for Oklahoma City. Dave Nicholson of Omaha had a solo round tripper in the fifth.

Three Omaha pitchers were used. Al Fitzmorris got the win.

Oklahoma City used five pitchers. Joel McMasers took the loss.

Omaha goes home to meet Tulsa Monday night. The 89ers go on a seven-day road trip, opening against Iowa at Des Moines Monday night.

Cards Suffer Seventh Straight Loss At Home

By Associated Press

The slumping St. Louis Cardinals dropped their seventh straight game at home Sunday with the New York Mets exploding for an 11-3 victory over the National League champions.

Kevin Collins tagged a two-run homer that started a rally in the fifth inning and Jerry Grote's bases loaded double drove in three more New York runs in the ninth. The homer was the second in Collins' major league career.

Lee May stroked a three-run homer and Jim Maloney scattered six hits in pitching Cincinnati to a 7-1 triumph over Atlanta. Maloney struck out six and held the Braves hitless until the fifth inning.

Wes Parker's eighth-inning home run broke a tie and gave Claude Osteen and the streaking Los Angeles Dodgers a 2-1 victory over Houston. It was the fifth straight victory for the Dodgers and third in a row for Osteen, who allowed seven hits.

Rick Joseph drove in three runs with a pair of singles and led Philadelphia to a 7-1 victory over Pittsburgh. Rick Wise allowed just one Pirate hit until the eighth when he needed relief from Barry Lersch.

Pitcher Bob Bolin drove in two runs with a double and San Francisco hung on to beat San Diego 3-2. Bolin needed late-inning relief from Frank Linzy to nail down the Giants' sixth victory in seven games against the Padres.

Donn Clendenon rapped a three-run homer in the first inning and Montreal defeated Chicago 4-2 in the second game of a doubleheader, ending a seven game Cubs' winning streak.

Chicago took the opener 6-3 on the five-hit pitching of Ferguson Jenkins.

Gerry Moses, a rookie catcher, cracked a grand slam home run and Boston battered Cleveland 9-4. All the players involved in Saturday's big trade between the two teams stayed out of uniform after Ken Harrelson announced that he was retiring from baseball rather than report to the Indians.

Minnesota won its sixth straight, belting California pitchers for 14 hits and a 12-1 victory. Harmon Killebrew drove in three runs with a double and a single and Tony Oliva slammed a home run. Dave Boswell allowed five hits and had two himself, including a run-scoring triple.

Frank Bertina and Bob Humphreys limited Baltimore to seven hits and Washington beat the Orioles 5-2 in the second game for a split of their doubleheader. Mark Belanger's two-run single in the ninth gave the Orioles a 2-1 victory in the opener.

Rookie Bill Burbach, making only his second major league start, stymied Detroit on five hits and New York beat the Tigers 2-0 in the second game of a doubleheader. The Tigers took the opener 5-2 with Norm Cash hammering a two-run homer.

Bill Melton smacked a pair of long homers, helping the Chicago White Sox to a 3-2, 13-3 doubleheader sweep over the Seattle Pilots. Melton's first-game homer won it for the Sox in the 10th inning and he connected again in the nightcap.

Hank Taylor rocked Oakland with a three-run homer in the eighth inning, giving Kansas City a 7-5 victory over the Athletics in the second game of their doubleheader. Dick Green drove in three runs with a pair of triples and Jim Nash hurled a five-hitter as Oakland took the opener 5-1.

Los Angeles Victory Led By Elgin Baylor

Los Angeles (AP) — Elgin Baylor scored 29 points, 12 of them in the crucial final period, to bring the Los Angeles Lakers a 104-96 victory over the Atlanta Hawks Sunday and a 4-1 triumph in their western playoff final series.

The Lakers advanced to the NBA championship best-of-seven set against the Boston Celtics with the opening two games in the Forum Wednesday and Friday night.

With Baylor enjoying his best game of the playoff, Wilt Chamberlain provided the defensive support with 29 rebounds.

Although the Lakers took a 17-point lead midway in the third quarter, Atlanta rallied and with 7:31 left in the game went ahead 87-86. Three Baylor field goals sent his Lakers ahead to stay.

ELGIN BAYLOR

Zelmo Beaty, also with a dozen in the final period, paced the ill-fated Atlanta comeback and he wound up high scorer for the game with 30.

Baylor, averaging only 12.2 points a game for the playoffs against San Francisco and Atlanta, hit with his consistency of old with 13 points in the first half, which the Lakers led 54-42 before the 16,273 fans at the Forum.

Atlanta cut the margin to 81-71 by the end of the third stanza, and at one point outscored Los Angeles 27-12 before Baylor and Chamberlain brought the Lakers back to life.

In addition to his 29 points, Baylor contributed an even dozen assists to the Laker cause.

Bill Bridges scored 26 for Atlanta and Lou Hudson 21.

Jerry West, not as sharp as usual, tallied 21 for the Lakers. The 7-foot-2 Chamberlain and 6-foot Johnny Egan each scored 16.

After Joe Caldwell sent Atlanta ahead 87-86, Baylor's push shot shoved the Lakers in front again. Beaty's free throw tied it and then captain Elgin connected twice more the second shot coming after Chamberlain blocked three straight Atlanta shots.

Baylor's 14 field goals came on only 18 attempts and he added one free throw in two tries.

The Lakers hit 51 per cent of their shots from the field while the Hawks were at 40 per cent.

Chamberlain twisted his left ankle late in the third period but was out of action less than a minute.

The Lakers, who lost the final playoff to Boston a year ago in six games, should be favored this time, especially if Baylor's return to form continues.

Bruins clinch Montreal, 3-2

Boston (AP) — Linemates Eddie Westfall and Derek Sanderson, who specialize in extra duty as penalty-killers, combined for a pair of snort-handed goals in the first period in sparking the Boston Bruins to a 3-2 victory over the Montreal Canadiens Sunday evening to tie the National Hockey League's Eastern Division final playoff series at two games apiece.

Westfall scored on a rebound off a Sanderson shot at 2:55 and, after Montreal came back to tie the count, Sanderson tallied after being set up by Westfall at 15:49.

Westfall capped a tremendous game effort by teaming with defenseman Bobby Orr for what proved to be the deciding goal at 18:13 of the third period.

Westfall took a pass from Orr and fed back to the defenseman and the Bruins star scored from close up.

Montreal pulled goalie Rogatien Vachon and the strategy paid off as Serge Savard tipped in a shot with one minute remaining.

The Bruins then ran out the clock for their second home victory after two heartbreaking defeats in overtime in Montreal.

Boston goalie Gerry Cheevers turned in another outstanding job in following his 5-0 shutout in the third game of the series.

He turned aside 26 Montreal shots. Vachon, filling in for regular goalie Gump Worsley, who nursed a bruised left hand on the bench, turned aside 29 shots.

With rookie Garnet Bailey in the penalty box, Westfall and Sanderson scored early in the opening period. On a partial breakaway, Sanderson took a slap shot and Westfall barreled into defenseman Jacques Laperriere, who knocked over Vachon.

The puck trickled into the net.

Montreal tied the score at 8:51. Jacques Lemaire scored on a 35-foot slap shot beating Cheevers cleanly on a power play.

It was the first goal Cheevers surrendered in four playoff games in Boston this season.

With Johnny McKenzie serving a holding penalty, Sanderson and Westfall combined to put Boston in front to stay.

Sanderson pounced on a shot by Westfall behind the net and swung around to beat Vachon from close up for his eighth playoff goal.

The two teams meet in the fifth game in Montreal Tuesday before returning to Boston Thursday night.

Outcome Of Trade Up In Air

Boston (AP) — The eventual disposition of Saturday's six-player trade between Boston and Cleveland was up in the air Sunday following Red Sox slugger Ken Harrelson's announcement that he was retiring from baseball in preference to leaving Boston.

Robert F. Holbrook, executive assistant to American League President Joseph E. Cronin, said that technically a trade is negated unless the players involved report to their new clubs. He said the next step in the present situation was thus up to the teams involved.

Meanwhile none of the other players involved in the trade was in uniform Sunday as the teams met in the finale of a three-game series at Fenway Park. This was at the request of Cronin and by agreement of both clubs.

A Red Sox official told an impromptu news conference during the game that he would not expect Harrelson to wind up back with the Boston club no matter what happens — even if the trade should be called off altogether.

"I do not foresee him wearing a Red Sox uniform," General Manager Dick O'Connell said.

O'Connell said the status of the trade was "nowhere" at the moment, and that he was waiting to discuss it with Cleveland General Manager Gage Paul. He said negotiations could possibly produce a compromise trade or that it could be called off, but that "either way we lose Harrelson."

Asked whether it wouldn't be better for the club to take him back if Cleveland was willing to call off the whole deal, O'Connell said:

"You might feel that way emotionally, but not ethically. There's principle involved here. I would imagine that the rules and the ethics would prevail."

POSTCARD by Stan Delaplante

Looks summery around here. Warm days, and the roses are blooming madly. I thought roses gave hay fever. But a rose lover tells me, no.

"The lovely rose is blamed too often," (I forget what she said DID give people hay fever. Anyway, it was not throwing roses, roses riotously with the throng, Cynara.)

Hay fever attacks the household bird. She cannot pick up the cat without sneezing.

Weeds and roses grow here with equal ferocity. "What I'd like to do is just move out and leave the whole thing," cried the bird.

"Where would you move?" I asked. Summer does that to birds. They want to migrate to new nests. The classified ads are full of beautiful thoughts.

"Linda Vista Heights. Four bedrooms, three baths."

Linda Vista — beautiful view. (You find later the land was originally known as Cow Flats, but no matter. You have to stand on tiptoe to see over the weeds. The developer was soaring when he named it.)

The scatter has gathered a lot of debris. I wouldn't mind moving out and leaving it myself. Hitch up the wagons and move West.

Sometimes I make a try at getting things straightened out.

"Are you throwing those pants away?" she asked. "I surely am," I said. "I can't find anything in the closet anymore."

"You could wear them around the garden," she said holding them up to the light. (You could read a newspaper through the seat.)

"I'll wear something else around the garden," I said.

Later you find the pants back on a hanger. "They might come in handy when you wash the car." (I never wash a car. I take it in and let someone else wash it. He has to make a living, too.)

I said: "Let's throw out all these boxes in the storeroom." "What!" she said. "I'm saving those for Christmas."

She said: "What about throwing out that stack of papers that's been on your desk for months?"

I said: "Let that alone. That's research material."

I said: "Why don't we get rid of a lot of those old school books of yours? When are you ever going to read 'English Poets And Other Works'?" She said: "I like to keep them for sentimental value." Either we move or burn the house down. No other way I can see.

Hay fever was the devil for Daniel Webster. He suffered dreadfully. Nasal passages swelling and his sneezes shook the building. How stood the Union then? Not so good, I imagine.

Queen Elizabeth is plagued by hay fever, and her job has added hazards.

Some Certain To Miss Flight

London (AP) — Although it's likely to be at least three years before British Overseas Airways Corp. puts its first supersonic Concorde into service, BOAC says it already has 274 applications for seats on the inaugural flight.

The plane's projected seating capacity is 145.

She is constantly being handed flowers by some muffin who little knows she is putting her Queen ink-choosing fits. You've seen the pictures. The Queen inspects a coal mine. The miner's daughter curtsies and hands the Queen a bouquet.

Soon around Buckingham Palace, the Queen is saying: "Philip, where did you put the Kleenex?"

The cats give the household bird hay fever. An extra problem, for we have two cats now and kittens almost any day.

Once it was suggested we give the cats away. "I'll find good homes for them." But the children burst into sobs. "I'll DIE if you give the cats away!"

Books. Cats. Old boxes. See-through old pants. We keep everything.

I said: "One thing I cannot understand. Why do we keep all that old wall-to-wall carpeting we ripped up? We could throw that out."

She said: "Don't touch that. I may want to put it down again in the playroom."

I said: "But you took it up because you couldn't stand it."

"You never can tell," she said. And that's an ever-loving fact.

10,000 Attracted To Fairgrounds For Hobby Show

Approximately 10,000 hobbyists and interested viewers visited the Hobby and Sports Show at the State Fairgrounds Saturday and Sunday.

The show, sponsored by the Lincoln Hobby Club, had assorted displays ranging from stamps and coins to bottles and rare guns.

Early visitors to the show were escorted through the exhibits by several models from a modeling school in Lincoln and Omaha.

An interested viewer could see rare stones, vintage cars remodeled to perfect running condition, campers and other sporting equipment, and a collection of frontier firearms in perfect working order.

TV Trade Flow Is All One Way

Ottawa (AP) — Canada showed a balance-of-trade deficit in television-sets deficit in trade with Japan last year, the house of commons was told.

Trade Minister Jean-Luc Pepin reported that Canada imported 153,884 Japanese sets in 1968, while Japan bought one Canadian model.

Jones Receives Best Actor Award

New York (AP) — "The Great White Hope" was named the best drama of the year and its star, James Earl Jones won a Tony as best actor in the 23rd annual presentation of the Antoinette Perry awards Sunday night.

Jones portrayed a Negro boxer, based on Jack Johnson, who wins the heavyweight championship but is dragged under by society's reaction to his race and his white wife.

Julie Harris won a Tony as best dramatic actress for "Forty Carats" and Angela Lansbury was the winner for best performance by an actress in a musical, "Dear World."

The best actor in a musical was Jerry Orbach in "Promises, Promises," an adaptation of the movie, "The Apartment."

A musical about the American Revolution, "1776," was named the best musical of the season.

Jones Thanks All

Jones, his head shaven for the role, solemnly accepted the award with thanks to "all the people who helped make it possible."

Miss Lansbury, in contrast, was both tearful and radiant, saying, with a catch in her voice: "You never really believe this moment is going to happen to you."

Jones offered a special salute to his director, Ed Sherin, saying: "I assume he would have been saluted by the nominating committee," Sherin, not nominated for an award, also was thanked warmly by the play's author, Howard Sackler, and Jane Alexander, who won the award for best dramatic supporting actress.

Miss Alexander played Jones' mistress and wife, in "The Great White Hope."

Pacino Wins In Drama Best supporting actor in a drama was Al Pacino in "Does a Tiger Wear a Necktie," a play set in a narcotics treatment center.

The winners of awards for best supporting performances in a musical were tall, blonde Marian Mercer for "Promises, Promises," and Ronald Holgate for "1776."

The directing awards went to Peter Dews of "Hadrian VII" for drama and Peter Hunt of "1776" for musicals.

Other winners were:

Choreography — Joe Layton for "George M!"

Scenic design — Boris Aronson, who created the set of "Zorba."

Costume design — Louden Sainhill, the musical "Canterbury Tales."

The Negro Ensemble Company, a young repertory company founded in January 1968, won a special citation, one of five presented.

Other special awards, previously announced, for distinguished service to the theater were presented to Leonard Bernstein, Sir Laurence Olivier, two-time Tony winner Rex Harrison and Carol Burnett.

U.S. Marine Base Blasted By Rockets

Saigon (AP) — Enemy gunners blasted a U.S. Marine helicopter base outside Da Nang with 20 Soviet-built 122mm rockets Sunday night and one landed among scores of men watching an open-air movie.

Officials reported two Marines killed and 46 wounded in the attack on the Marble Mountain base.

CENTO To Meet

Ankara, Turkey (AP) — The Central Treaty Organization's annual ministerial council meeting will be held in Tehran May 26. CENTO headquarters here announced. Ministers of Turkey, Pakistan, Iran, Great Britain and the United States will attend.

Mountain base. Thirty-eight South Vietnamese soldiers at a training camp were also killed in the wave of at least 35 overnight enemy shellings.

As the Communist rocket and mortar offensive carried into its ninth week, U.S. headquarters said more than 31,000 enemy troops had been killed since the start of the spring campaign.

Associated Press correspondent Richard Pyle reported from Da Nang that Marine headquarters said no helicopters were hit in the attack on Marble Mountain.

Soviet-Made Rockets
The screaming Soviet-made rockets came crashing into the base area just a few minutes before 3 p.m., when the men were relaxing after the evening meal.

Officials said between 50 and 100 Marines were seated on the patio of an enlisted men's club watching an outdoor movie when one rocket exploded just a few yards away. Two Marines were killed and 46 wounded in this one burst—all the casualties taken in the Marble Mountain attack. Of the wounded, 38 were evacuated.

The movie had just begun when the rocket landed, officials said.

The heavy South Vietnamese casualties came at the Lam Son training center on the east coast about 220 miles northeast of Saigon. A withering barrage of rockets and mortars killed 35 and wounded 175, almost all of them recent inductees.

The 35 overnight shellings marked a sharp upswing after a relative decline in the past few weeks.

Nationwide, the targets appeared to be mainly military centers, but some provincial and district capitals were hit and far from complete reports listed 11 civilians killed and 77 wounded.

Four airfields were shelled and the U.S. Special Forces headquarters at Nha Trang on the coast was hit. The physical damage appeared minimal in most of the attacks. Details were lacking on the attack at the South Vietnamese training center at Lam Son, however, and it appeared there may have been extensive damage there.

The training center is one of the largest in the country.

Egyptian Forces Raid Israeli Outpost On Suez

By The Associated Press
An Egyptian army commando force slipped across the Suez Canal late Saturday night and raided an Israeli outpost along the waterway for the first time in six months.

The attack came against the background of two weeks of heavy artillery barrages up and down the blockaded canal and a resurgence of artillery duels on the Jordanian front.

It added dimension to speculation in Israeli and Arab capitals that Egypt may be planning a large-scale troop assault against the occupied east bank of the canal sometime this summer.

Egypt Hails Success
Egypt hailed as a success its night attack on the Israeli bunker opposite the mid-canal city of Ismailia, claiming at least 30 Israeli soldiers were killed or wounded and a number of armored cars and ammunition supplies were destroyed.

Israeli officials shrugged off the foray as a minor skirmish. "They landed and then made of after a short burst of firing," an Israeli spokesman said. "We let them go."

He said the only Israeli casualty was one soldier wounded and that the Egyptian claim of 30 casualties was "nonsense — probably aimed for internal propaganda uses."

The Israeli account said 15 Egyptian soldiers crossed in boats to a tongue of the Sinai Desert, jutting into the north of Timsa Lake, and in a brief flurry of shooting, one Israeli soldier was wounded and an army car was damaged.

Two Egyptian commandos were wounded, but fled with the rest of the raiders, leaving behind automatic rifles, smoke grenades and some explosives, the Israelis said.

Cairo's version said: "The Israeli position was under the control of our force for two hours and they returned to their base safely." It reported two Egyptian soldiers were slightly wounded when they tried to knock out Israeli tanks.

It was the first announced engagement between regular Israeli and Egyptian troops in Sinai since last October when an Israeli patrol was ambushed at the height of a fierce cross-canal artillery battle.

Planning Nearly Done On Chapel At Boys School

The bishop of the Grand Island Diocese of the Roman Catholic Church said Sunday that architectural work for the all-faiths chapel at the Boys Training School at Kearney should be completed in May.

Speaking in Lincoln to some 500 persons attending the 65th annual state convention of the Knights of Columbus, Bishop John L. Paschang said construction of the $100,000 chapel is expected to begin in June.

He noted that the training school has no facilities of any faith to serve the 200 boys there.

Bishop Glennon P. Flavin of Lincoln also spoke Sunday during the second day of the three-day event that ends Monday.

Awards were presented Sunday to the following councils:

Council of the Year — Shelby and Best Bulletin Board — 5237 of Omaha and 1497 of Fremont.
Star Council of the Year — Wahoo, North Bend and 5287 of Omaha.
Special Council — Howells, District of the Year—District 1 (Omaha).
Special Colombian Choir — Lewis Coker of O'Neill.

Train Derails Near Toronto; 2 Said Dead

Toronto (UPI) — At least two persons, a railway employee and a girl passenger, were killed and about 50 persons injured Sunday when a Canadian National train from Toronto to Sarnia, Ont., derailed and overturned in a Toronto suburb.

Canadian National Railways spokesman John Noel said the engine and three cars of train No. 151 derailed and turned over in suburban Mississauga Township. Two other cars remained standing upright, although one also left the tracks.

Noel said preliminary investigation by railway authorities indicated "that someone sawed off the chain on the sliding switch there and turned it to take the train onto the siding."

"We don't know yet how many were aboard the train or how many were injured," Noel said. "Two persons, an employee and a girl passenger, are the only known dead and, aside from them, no serious injuries have been reported so far."

Dozens of persons received minor injuries, however, and were rushed to nearby hospitals in ambulances from the Ontario Emergency Measures Organization and the St. John Ambulance Corps. Police estimated 50 to 75 persons were hurt.

The train, which left Toronto and was due in Sarnia four hours later, was nearing the suburban Malton station when it hit the switch onto an industrial siding just west of Woodbine Racetrack, Noel said.

EVERYBODY'S MONEY:

Loss Of Foreign Capital Hurts Peruvian Economy

By Merrylye S. Rukeyser

Lima, Peru — While the U.S. tradition of the "Good Neighbor" policy is noble, the prestige of the current dictatorship in Peru has been temporarily enhanced by the patience of the Nixon administration, as the junta headed by President Velasco thus appears to be getting away with inflammatory action and talk.

However, the U.S. Government aid, which will not be shut off — at least for the present — is small compared with the cessation of the inflow of private foreign capital which earlier was scheduled for copper and other extractive industry developments to the tune of $600,000,000 to $1,000,000,000. Because of the shock to confidence, the national economy of Peru, which had been growing at the rate of 6% to 7% a year, ground to a virtual standstill since the beginning of January.

The will to invest was further weakened some two months ago when the finance minister and another moderate in the cabinet, both of whom were pro-U.S., resigned.

There has been a flight of capital. When the government took over International Petroleum Co. assets, it found that liquid resources had been withdrawn from the country.

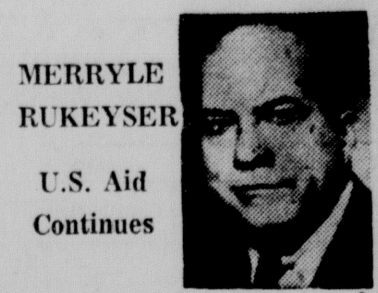

Company Criticized Carlos Zuzunaga, immediate past president of E.C.D., a national organization of young business executives, was critical of I.P.C.'s history in Peru.

Nevertheless, as a means of restoring confidence, Zuzunaga told me he recommended this four step program: First, the government should compensate I.P.C. in deferred Peruvian obligations for property taken.

Secondly, the government should stress that the I.P.C. did not represent a general anti-foreign capital movement. He proposed that the junta make a firm affirmative move to invite foreign capital and lay down specific ground rules.

Thirdly, as a symbol of not going the way advocated by Marxian extremists in the government, this young international lawyer proposed that as a symbol of non-hostility to private business the government undertake to denationalize the steel industry, which had been a flop.

Nevertheless, the military

MERRYLYE RUKEYSER
U.S. Aid Continues

had plumped for it for strategic reasons. Zuzunaga thought that the industry in private hands could be made viable through agreements for market concessions and joint efforts with Brazil and Venezuela in line with a deal made between Chile and Ecuador.

Fourthly, to rebuild confidence, Zuzunaga proposed that the junta transform itself into a genuinely national government by adding to the cabinet civilian ministers of recognized capacity.

The prelude for the coup was inflation, which resulted in a 40% devaluation in 1967. This was accompanied by an international agreement to postpone payments on international debts until 1970. Some here predict when debt payment is resumed another devaluation will be in order.

The former government, headed by President Belaúte, despite its political legitimacy, accumulated trouble with too big a budget and too small taxes. Even before the former government introduced tax reforms, many felt industry was already heavily taxed whereas the large old-line landowners were not.

The impact of the Nixon administration restraint at the time of the April 9 day of reckoning on domestic political fortunes should be watched. Velasco's claim has been somewhat outside the tradition of coups, in which the chief executive job goes to the highest military chief. But the president was retired by the army in January, giving inside dissidents something to hang their hats on.

The partial victory of President Velasco in winning a breathing spell from Washington, tends at least for a time to bolster up his prestige. Peru at least temporarily will be eligible for foreign aid and will have a quota in the United States for the sale of sugar at two cents a pound above the world market.

(Mr. Rukeyser will be pleased to receive inquiries from readers concerning their financial problems. Letters with stamped self addressed envelopes should be sent in care of The Lincoln Star. Questions of general interest will be answered in the column. Others, to the extent time permits, will be handled by mail.)

Nixon Approves Plans For Soviet Radio Setup

Washington (AP) — President Nixon has agreed to let the Soviet embassy in Washington set up a two-way radio in return for similar rights for the American embassy in Moscow, administration officials disclosed Sunday.

The step was described as another in the recent series of actions showing working relationships between the two superpowers, the latest being Soviet naval cooperation last week in the search for the U.S. plane shot down by North Korea.

The shortwave radio deal was listed as part of a three-piece package concluded last month for improved communications between the embassies of the two nations and their home governments.

Private Lines Provided Another part of the package, announced March 17, provided for private line teletype circuits connecting the embassies with their capitals along the same Moscow-Washington route as the White House-Kremlin "hotline" standby emergency wire.

The third arrangement is for more reliable handling of diplomatic pouches going by commercial airliners between the respective embassies and their home stations.

The United States already has reciprocal agreements with a number of countries around the world for embassy operation of radio transmitters.

American diplomats have found embassy-controlled radio stations a useful supplement to other communications facilities, particularly in areas where commercial facilities are poor or political conditions unstable.

Law Involved Under U.S. law, the President had to make a finding that it was in the U.S. national interest to allow the Soviets to broadcast from their Washington embassy in order for the U.S.-Soviet deal to be worked out.

The administration officials said radio transmissions from the Soviet embassy here would not pose problems for U.S. security. Broadcasts are easily monitored.

They said the Soviets sought the agreement for improved handling of diplomatic pouches that are not carried personally by couriers.

The agreement provides that envoys of the two countries may meet Pan American and Aeroflot flights directly upon their landings in Moscow and New York to carry away the pouches without customs inspection.

Blaze Ruins Fire Practice

St. Leonard, Switzerland (UPI) — The Valais County fire brigade planned to use an old, abandoned building near here for fire fighting demonstrations and training.

But an unscheduled fire engulfed the building and by the time the brigade arrived, it was a total loss.

Here is a practical little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures gives you.
